STORMY NIGHT'S VISITOR—William R. Conrad and his family were staying home during the storm at 7:30 p.m. Saturday when a strong gust of wind cracked this old oak tree, sending part of it crashing through the roof. Force of the crash drove limbs of the tree through the ceiling in the living room, kitchen and hallway. Five-Inch Marin Rainstorm Driven By 55-Mile Winds

Trees Fall, Flooding Sporadic

By STEPHEN COOK

The weekend's storm, with winds which reached 55 miles per hour and hurled as much as 5.41 inches of rain on Marin County, was due to pass by tonight, the United States Weather Bureau said.

A five-day forecast said rain will ease off to scattered showers tomorrow, with some chance of rain through Thursday.

The storm knocked down trees and blew off roofs. Torrents of rain caused mud and rock slides and flooded low-lying streets and garages.

City and county public works departments and representatives of the public utility companies said the county escaped with slight damage considering the size of the storm.

Donald R. Frost, county public works director, said it was "nuisance damage . . . We haven't had enough total rain-

Tragedy Hits During Stormy Night Outing

A San Lorenzo family, out for a ride on a stormy night, met disaster when their small foreign bus plunged 400 feet off Shoreline Highway between Muir Beach and Stinson Beach, to the rocks below at 12:01 a.m. yesterday.

The mother, Mrs. Charles H. Wolfe, 36, who was wearing a seat belt, rode to the bottom of the cliff and was killed instantly, according to Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

Her three children were seriously injured, one critically, as they were thrown out of the car during the plunge. They were riding in the rear of the station wagon. She was riding in right front.

The father, Charles H. Wolfe, 36, told California Highway Patrol officers he swerved to avoid an unidentified car rounding a turn on the wrong side of the road.

When his car went over the embankment, he jumped out, he told officers.

Ten-year-old Ric Wolfe was thrown 125 feet down the embankment; five-year-old David, 150 feet, and 11-year-old, Lisa, 175 feet, officers reported.

The car was demolished when it landed on rocks at the bottom of a cliff near Gull Rock turn. Parts of it were littered along the entire length of the descent.

Wolfe was discovered walking dazed, along Shoreline Highway about a mile from the scene of the accident at 12:29 a.m. by State Division of Highways crews who were cleaning up slides in the area, Bradley reported.

Wolfe told officers the family had been on a ride to Stinson Beach and was headed home.

Wolfe, who suffered bruises and scrapes and a neck sprain was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Eric, who suffered head injuries, was reported in critical condition.

David, who suffered multiple bruises, a concussion and scalp cut, was reported in fair condition.

Platoon Smashes Battalion, But Only Three GIs Survive

SAIGON (UPI)—A surrounded platoon of 21 men of the U.S. Army 1st Air Cavalry Division stood off an entire North Vietnamese battalion of 400 regular troops for four hours today before it was overrun. Only three Americans survived, but the platoon killed 102 Communists.

The platoon called in American artillery fire on its own position in a futile effort to halt the waves of Communists pouring in from four directions. U.S. warplanes struck nearby but the valient stand could not halt the massive enemy forces.

The last words of the platoon's forward observer calling in supporting fire crackled through on the radio from inside the Communist ring of fire. "That was right on the money. Let's have everything you've got right in the same place."

One of the three who survived by playing dead was Squad leader Julius C. Durham, 18, of Pelzeryn, S.C. He said the platoon simply could not stop the onslaught of the Communists who swarmed around them and poured on sheets of automatic fire.

He said the North Vietnamese rampaged through the battle scene, robbing the bodies of the Americans and shooting the wounded.

U.S. reinforcements who finally swept the Communists off the battlefield near the Cambodian border 235 miles north of Saigon reported 102 Communists were killed—42 of them stacked like wood around the spot where the lost platoon made its last stand.

Army Ready To Survey Beach Erosion

I-J Special Report

PETALUMA — The Army Corps of Engineers has authorized funds for development studies of Point Reyes erosion problems, Bolinas Harbor, Bolinas Creek and the Saucelito Canal.

I. H. Steinberg, chief of projects of the district office of the corps, told the California Harbors and Watercraft Commission of several fund authorizations at meeting here today.

He said funds have also been authorized for the Petaluma River dredging maintenance and Bodega Bay. The Petaluma River channel enlargement project has not yet been authorized, he said in a report covering corps projects from the Oregon border to Big Sur.

An outline of the development of Bolinas Bay was scheduled to be presented this afternoon.

This morning the commission authorized a grant of $2 million to the Avalon Harbor Commission on Santa Catalina Island, off the coast from Los Angeles.

Dog-Napers Reported Busy In Marin County

By PAT PERRY

Keep close tabs on your dogs and cats.

A well-organized gang of dog and cat napers, operating in the Bay Area in recent weeks, appears to have started snatching Marin County animals.

The dog was popped into a white pickup truck and camper, with SPCA lettered on the side, by a young dark-haired man dressed in white coveralls.

But SPCA does not operate in Marin, and the Marin County Humane Society's five trucks have beige cabs and aluminum bodies. The animal control officers wear olive drab uniforms with official county badges.

Mel L. Morse, Humane Society director said today: "We've had reports of this truck operating in the East Bay too. The sheriff's and police departments have been alerted."

Morse said the dogs and cats are sold fod medical research. "It's a highly profitable business. At the recent congressional hearings one man testified he made $75,000 a year," he reported.

Dogs sell for around $30 each to the laboratories, said Morse. Cats are sold by the pound.

"And of course with purebreds, the snatcher can forge papers and sell the dogs for even more," added Morse.

The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Oakland said they've had reports of trucks operating "as far up as Napa." The trucks have been variously described as white, green and red.

Morse advised Marin residents who see any animal being picked up to immediately notify the nearest police or sheriff's office. "Our trucks are easily recognizable, and anything else is highly suspicious," he added.

About 100 dogs are picked up

Thailand Resembles Viet Scene Of Four Years Ago

BANGKOK (UPI) —American military advisers stalk thick Asian jungles with local army units tracking down a fast-growing Communist guerrilla army.

It resembles Viet Nam' 1962. But it is Thailand today.

Reliable American and Thai sources have disclosed that the Communist guerrilla force in this pro-American nation west of Viet Nam has reached about 5,000 men.

Washington as recently as two weeks ago officially denied another hotspot of Viet Nam proportion was kindling in Thailand. But one of the sources summed up private opinions of both American and Thai officials here:

"I personally think we've got a problem in northeast Thailand and it just isn't going to go away."

The informants reported that: American soldiers are patrolling the wilderness of northeast Thailand with combat battalions of the royal Thai army, advising them in anti-guerrilla operations.

U.S. military engineers are laying logistical groundwork to back up major land operations by the Thais against the guerrillas.

Bookstore's Safe Robbed

Bookkeeper Reiko Onizuka said receipts generally are taken to a night deposit at a local bank, but, because of the rain, had been accumulating in the safe since Friday morning. It held $500 cash plus several hundred dollars in checks.

Mrs. Onizuka discovered the theft when she arrived for work at 10 a.m. today. The safe was built into a wall cabinet, she said.

Kettenhofen Asks More Route Plans

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said today he would have to have information from Ross, San Anselmo and Fairfax on how they would solve the traffic problem before supporting the cities in opposition to Highway 17 routes that would go through those cities.

Kettenhofen asked for the information this morning, just a few hours prior to the board of supervisors' hearing on Highway 17 proposals, scheduled for 8 p.m. today at Olney Hall, College of Marin, Kentfield.

Mission Bells Stolen In Fraternity Prank

Two 150-year-old bells from St. Raphael's in San Rafael were taken from the tower during the weekend by three students on a fraternity initiation spree.

The bells were safe today under lock and key in San Rafael police station as authorities pondered what to do about the culprits.

Arrested on charges of grand theft and conspiracy were Steven J. Wechsler, 20, of 62 Manderly Road, San Rafael; Walter H. Jensen, 20, of Stockton and John D. Mills, 20, of Belmont.

They were grabbed by police at 5:30 a.m. Saturday, a few minutes after they reportedly took the bells.

Patrolman Donal Merkley reported he was with Officer Martin J. Conlin when they saw a car southbound on C Street with the trunk open. When they saw it minutes later, the trunk was half closed and they decided to investigate.

The car was stopped. Merkley opened the trunk and found Mills lying inside with his arm around a bell. It was a large bell, said the officer, "weather-worn and very old."

He questioned Jenson and Wechsler, who were in the car, and they admitted they had sto-

Johnson Spends Ranch Time Culling Reports, On Phone

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson spent a "strictly routine Monday" today culling intelligence and military reports and talking to cabinet officials in Washington by telephone.

The Texas White House said Johnson would spend the day working at the LBJ Ranch at a more relaxed pace, sleeping later and doing some reading and paperwork in bed.

Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said the chief executive had no present plans for summoning officials from Washington for ranch conferences.

He said Johnson had spoken early in the day with Secretary of State Dean Rusk about "some United Nations matters."

Moyers had no further detail on the conversations but apparently they dealt with the United States rejection of the admission to Red China to the United Nations, but its agreement to join with other nations in a U.N. study of the matter.

He said that the President had no comment on reports that he

LONDON (AP)— Bad weather at Moscow Airport today postponed Foreign Secretary George Brown's visit to the Soviet capital. Brown's flight was tentatively rescheduled for early tomorrow morning.

Rejects Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States today rejected once more the seating of Red China in the United Nations but anounced it would support a plan offered by Italy and five other countries for a full high-level study of the China problem. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg repeated the traditional U. S. opposition to the admission of the Peking government and declared the United States could not accept any move to expel Nationalist China.

Teachers Strike 48 Schools

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Forty-eight public schools here and in nearby Hubbard were closed today by a teachers' strike which affected 40,000 pupils.

The strike by teachers' union members in both communities gained support from school bus drivers and truckers who make deliveries to the schools.

Bus drivers here refused to cross teacher picket lines, creating transportation problems for some 2,000 parochial school pupils.

Gregory Awaits Holiday Reply

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Negro comedian and civil rights advocate Dick Gregory waited today for a reply from the North Vietnamese government on his proposal to discuss with the Communists the possibility of entertaining American prisoners of war during the Christmas holidays.

Gregory said he sent a note to President Ho Chi Minh through the office of English philosopher Bertrand Russell in London seeking permission to enter the Southeast Asian nation to meet with the North Vietnamese leader.

"I told them (North Vietnamese) that the Thanksgiving holidays would be a convenient time for me to make the trip and discuss the idea if Hanoi reacts favorably to my proposal," he said.

Gregory said he would enter North Viet Nam through London and would not seek the sanction of the U.S. State Department in making the trip "because Hanoi might turn me down."

Mother Claims Son Tortured

ORINDA (UPI) — The mother of American explorer-lecturer Robert E. Moran claimed yesterday that her son was tortured and slain in Guatemala by Castro guerrillas, who lured him there on the promise he could film their camp.

Mrs. Jeanne Barteaux, Santa Monica, said the body of Moran, 36, was found in a shallow grave last week on the very night she left the Central American country after a fruitless two-week search for him.

Authorities in Guatemala City said last week that Moran's body was found in a shallow grave in the hills. They said two Guatemalans admitted killing him for the few dollars that were in his pocket.

However, the police conceded there were unusual circumstances.

Mrs. Barteaux said two doctors who looked at the body said there was evidence of torture. "A hand was missing and bones were broken," she said.

"He probably was dead before I went down there looking for him," said Mrs. Barteaux. "I became concerned when he missed a lecture commitment in New York late in September. He just didn't do that sort of thing."

Supreme Court Grants Georgia Vote Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court stayed today a three-judge federal court ruling that the Georgia Legislature cannot elect that state's next governor.

The effect is to freeze the tangled Georgia election situation until at least Dec. 5, the date set by the high court for hearing argument.

The three-judge court in Atlanta on Nov. 17 ruled unconstitutional a Georgia Constitution provision that the legislature choose between two top candidates when no candidate for governor gets a majority of the popular vote.

The three-judge court ruling barred a choice by the legislature between Democrat Lester G. Maddox and Republican Howard (Bo) Callaway.

Neither Maddox nor Callaway received the required clear majority for election as governor in the Nov. 8 election.

The Supreme Court said an appeal from the three-judge court ruling had been filed by Ben W. Fortson, Georgia secretary of state. Fortson also asked the lower court judgment be stayed pending final action by the highest tribunal on the secretary's appeal.

Rockefeller, Romney Plot Campaign '68

DORADO BEACH, P. R. (UPI)—Under sunny tropical skies, vacationing Govs. George Romney and Nelson A. Rockefeller today began strategy talks aimed at putting a Republican in the White House on a cold day in January two years from now.

Today's meeting was, in effect, the opening round of the GOP moderate wing's drive for the presidency in 1968. The discussions focused on whether "consensus" or "leadership" was needed in the long campaign that lies ahead.

Romney, Michigan's proven vote-getter whom Rockefeller has conceded would make a formidable moderate GOP presidential entry in 1968, was meeting with the New York governor, who twice sought the Republican presidential nomination himself, at this luxury resort island spa, 20 miles west of San Juan, where both are vacationing.

What originally seemed destined to be a Caribbean "summit" of moderate Republican leaders had boiled down by today to an informal lunch meeting between Romney and Rockefeller. Senators-elect Charles Brooke of Illinois and Edward Brooke of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania Governor-elect Raymond P. Sahfer were also vacationing in the Caribbean but none was expected to attend today's meeting.

Strike Loss Still Soars

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Strikes and lockouts during the third quarter of this year resulted in a loss of 450,000 man-days of work in California, Ernest B. Webb, state Director of Industrial Relations, reported today.

Webb said the idleness total was less than half that recorded in the same period of 1965 and about two-thirds of the 10-year average.

He said the six-week machinists strike against United, Trans-World and National Airlines accounted for 70 per cent of the working time lost. That strike idled 10,000 employees in the state, he said.

Klansman Is Jailed Twice In Weekend

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI) — A self-styled honorary cyclops of the California Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was free on $662 bond today after twice being arrested during the weekend.

The Rev. William V. Fowler was jailed in Montclair Saturday on a battery charge for allegedly hitting a Negro market employee he accused of throwing away KKK literature.

At that time, Sheriff Frank Bland told Fowler he would be subject to further arrest if he attempted to hold a Klan rally that night in the Cajon Pass area north of San Bernardino. Bland had cancelled a parade permit issued in the name of the "Covenant Church of Jesus Christ" when he learned it was to be used by Fowler and other KKK members.

When Fowler appeared that night before 65 persons, 11 of them in klan robes, he was taken to county jail and held until he posted bail. He was charged with holding an assembly without a permit.

Three of Fowler's apparent adherents were arrested later as they paraded in front of the jail protesting the action against Fowler. They were charged with unlawful assembly and later also were freed on bail.

Stamp Collection Sold At Auction

A huge stamp collection amassed by the late Edmund G. Thomas Jr. of San Anselmo, longtime Tamalpais High School District trustee, was sold at auction today in San Francisco with only one bidder.

The sole bidder was Richard Wolffers, at whose Kearney Street stamp shop the collection had been held since Thomas's death six months ago.

Sale by Mullen and Filippi, a San Francisco law firm, was in settlement of the estate of Thomas, a bachelor and himself a lawyer. The attorneys had predicted the collection should sell for in excess of $30,000, but declined to report the sale price today until court approval of the transaction.

The collection included more than 20 albums, plus many boxes of duplicates. It was principally a 20th century British Empire collection, of all unused stamps, reported Wolffers, a personal friend of Thomas and his supplier with many of the stamps. Specialized collections of minor verieties of Basutoland, Swaziland, and Bechuanaland were included.

There were also albums of stamps of Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and the new African republics, as well as many plate blocks and complete sheets of unused United States commemorative stamps.

As many as 600 duplicates of some British colonial stamps were included in the accumulation, Wolffers said.

Schultz Loses Fight Versus Bolinas Freeze

Charging that it made a "farce out of our proceedings," Marin County Planning Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. made a strong dissent today on a 90-day interim ordinance that would suspend development on and around Bolinas Lagoon.

Adoption of the ordinance, however, was recommended to supervisors by 5-2 vote of the planning commission, with Commissioner Eugene R. Trombley joining Schultz in the dissent.

Schultz reminded fellow commissioners that the proposed emergency ordinance was brought up two weeks ago as a means of preventing development pending county purchase of shoreline land for park and open space.

Since then, he said, the county counsel advised that this reasoning might not hold up in court. The motivation given today was that the moratorium was needed to try to resolve conflicts between the county's Stinson-Bolinas master plan and the recently proposed plan of the Bolinas Harbor District.

Schultz said the ordinance would deny property owners their rights withoutdue process, that there was no provision for waiving property taxes during the 90-day period, and it was likely the moratorium would be extended.

"It's sort of a subterfuge?" Trombley asked.

"You could call it that," Schultz replied.

Commisisoner Hugh G. Dougherty first moved that the emergency ordinance (to take effect the day supervisors adopt it) be recommended as proposed, including all lands bounded by roadways surrounding the lagoon and the lagoon itself.

Gene McDaniel of the Bolinas Harbor District board, objected, saying he doubted the county could prevent the district from "exercising its responsibility."

Dougherty then amended his motion to exclude the lands controlled by the district. Commissioner Claude Stoller, who seconded the first motion, withdrew his second for the amendment and a long discussion ensued.

Donald Campbell of Muskrat Corp. which plans a residential development on the north side of the lagoon on land the county wants to purchase, objected to the ordinance. So did attorney Robert Pendergrass, representing Bahia Bolinas, which has a lease with the harbor district for development on the east short of the lagoon.

Schultz moved and Trombley seconded that the matter be dropped, but they were the only ones voting for this motion. Dougherty then put his original motion again and it passed 5-2.

Supervisors are to consider the recommendation Nov. 29.

Robbers Stage Daring Holdup

Making a routine check, patrolman Richard Delucchi, 26, walked through the swinging door of Mustache's Pizza Parlor — and felt a gun pressed against his head.

He was followed by patrolman Dave Prielipp.

"I'll shoot if you don't drop your guns," one robber said. Both officers dropped their guns.

The holdup man and his accomplice clamped the officers' own handcuffs on them, picked up the police guns and fled.

MAN FIGHTS HIS WAY INTO COUNTY JAIL CELL

If you fight hard enough for what you want, you finally get it. Curtin Ottman, 29, wanted to be booked into Marin County Jail—so he fought hard.

He lunged, grabbed, pleaded with sheriff's deputies to put him into a cell last night.

But Ottman was sober and had committed no crime, reported Deputy Frank Kane.

Deputies picked him up in an effort to get him outside the jail house, but Ottman swung his legs around a cigarette machine near the entrance and would not budge. They advised him he was going too far.

Finally, when Ottman lay down and blocked the entrance, he was booked for interfering with an officer and got what he wanted.

They said Ottman—whose address was given as "all points"—actually smiled as they turned the key.

Judge Denies Dismissal Of Sidbeck Case

A motion to dismiss the grand jury murder indictment of Robert Dean Sidbeck, 18, was denied today in Marin Superior Court by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

The judge then scheduled a much-delayed plea entry for 9:30 a.m. next Monday.

Sidbeck is accused in the Aug. 29-30 slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. Zimmerman in their dairy farm home on San Antonio Road.

His attorney, Public Defender Jerome Durham, declared there was insufficient evidence in the grand jury's transcript to warrant the indictment for the double murder.

He specifically charged that evidence linking a sweatshirt and a pair of blood-stained pants to Sidbeck was vague. He said the sweatshirt, found in a creek near the Zimmerman home, was not shown to be Sidbeck's, and testimony of origin of blood found on a pair of Sidbeck's green pants was vague.

Durham said the week's continuance for plea entry is needed to complete his examination of the prosecution's evidence.

Sidbeck, a Marine extradited from Memphis, Tenn., is held in county jail without bail. He is a former friend and employee of the victims, who were bludgeoned to death.

Lake County Death Probed

LAKEPORT (AP)—The Lake County sheriff's office investigated today the slaying of a 35-year-old woman receptionist for the state forestry division.

Ted Libbey, owner and publisher of the weekly Times-Star at Middletown, said he found the body of Mrs. Joan Dole, 35, in bed at her Anderson Springs home shortly after noon yesterday.

She had been shot twice in the head and three times in the body.

Twice this month Mrs. Dole had reported that an intruder had broken into her home.

Life Magazine Asks New JFK Assassination Probe

NEW YORK (UPI)—Contending there was a "reasonable doubt" that the same bullet hit President John F. Kennedy and Texas Gov. John Connally, Life magazine today urged that a new investigating body be set up to determine whether Lee Harvey Oswald had a co-conspirator.

The question of the number of bullets is significant, for if different bullets struck Kennedy's neck and Connally's back, then, it is reasoned, there must have been another assassin.

"The case should be reopened," concluded Life, which based its doubts on a recent interview with Connally after the governor had painstakenly examined, frame by frame, a motion picture film of the assassination.

The Warren Commission concluded that the same bullet struck Kennedy and Connally. Others, including Connally himself, maintain that the two men were shot almost simultaneously by two bullets.

"If so," the magazine says in its current issue, "there must have been two assassins."

The Life article is accompanied by a number of frames of the film made by Abraham Zapruder, who was watching the presidential motorcade pass by that day in Dallas three years ago Tuesday.

STORM

Damage was more than a nuisance, though, at some households.

At 7:30 p.m. Saturday, the winds split a large oak tree and toppled it through the roof of William R. Conrad's home at 330 Bolinas Avenue, Fairfax.

"It just gave the house an awful whack," said Mrs. Conrad, who was in the house at the time, along with her husband and three children.

Force of the fall drove branches of the tree through the roof and ceiling, into the house, in three different spots—kitchen, living room and hallway. "The roof is just a total mess," said Mrs. Conrad.

Mrs. Beatrce Rutland, whose home is at 82 Marina Court, just outside San Rafael's eastern city limits, found the storm frustrating as well as damaging.

The lower bedroom of her home began flooding at 11 a.m. yesterday. Assistance was a long time coming, and when it arrived, it was too late to do any good, she declared.

Her first call to the county communications center brought a San Rafael city crew. "They had a long discussion about it and finally decided we weren't in the city. They put all their tools back on the truck and took off," she said.

She said her subsequent calls for help were answered with the explanation that crews were working on the problem. This was due to confusion of Marina Court with Marina Boulevard, where there was also a problem with clogged street drains.

Mrs. Rutland said a county crew did not arrive until 5 p.m., long after heavy rains were over. She said her birchwood paneling was soaked and a carpet drenched, but offered no estimate of the cost.

Nearly 100 small pine trees at the Civic Center grounds were toppled Saturday evening by winds that peaked at 55 mles an hour, county landscape Supt. Floyd Hovland reported.

He said the trees will be righted and saved. He was making plans today for staking and wiring all the young trees.

County public works department said the rains and tide caused the Berens Drive - McCallister Avenue area of Kentfield, on the banks of Corte Madrea Creek, to flood twice between 1 and 5 p.m. yesterday.

Water crept into the garages of about five homes in that area, a department spokesman said.

On Saturday, the heavy rains backed up storm drains n the Santa Venetia area, sending water into garages on Adrian Way and La Pasada.

Water filled streets and crested the curbs at various times during the weekend at Manor Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield and in the Kent Woodlands, Marin Heights and Tamalpais Valley areas.

In San Rafael, a fast runoff of rain water met leaves in the gutters to clog storm drains and streets in several areas, according to Norris M. Rawles, public works director.

He reported minor flooding on Woodland Avenue and Irwin Street in the Bret Harte area, on Fourth Street near Cijos Street, and on B Street at First Street.

Rawles said he had crews of nine to 11 men working from 10:30 a.m. until after midnight Saturday and from early morning yesterday until 6 p.m.

Charlotte Reily of 150 Bungalow Avenue, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for an ankle fracture yesterday after reportedly slipping on the wet sidewalk at Woodland Place and Lindaro Street.

A large bay tree fell across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Samuel Taylor State Park at 12:52 a.m. yesterday and traffic was blocked for more than a half hour, while Marin County firemen cleared the debris.

Winds blew off large chunks off the roofs of homes of Larry Zoppi on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Forest Knolls and William McConnell of 80 Hill Road in Woodacre. County firemen said Zoppi lost part of his roof at 12:48 p.m. Saturday and McConnel lost his at 11:49 a.m. Sunday.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported several interruption of service.

About 200 telephones scattered about San Rafael area were out of service this morning, according to Troy Lewis, San Rafael manager of Pacific Telephone.

Leonard O. Robertson of PG&E reported that portions of Fairfax, Forest Knolls, Lagunitas and Inverness suffered power outages during the weekend, when trees knocked out power lines.

Longest interruption was for eight hours to 25 homes of Vallejo Street in Inverness Park. Power was out Saturday from 1:30 to 9:30 p.m.

In Belvedere, a storm drain backed up on San Rafael Avenue, flooding the street at noon yesterday near the Christian Science Church.

The water flooded the yard and a sunken room at Robert Novak's home at 180 San Rafael Avenue. The Belvedere maintenance department sandbagged his driveway and pumped water from the yard.

Highest rainfall for the week end was taken by Mrs. Ruth Hoyt of 656 Goodhill Road, Ross. She measured 5.41 inches of rain from the time the storm began to 8 a.m. today.

Other rainfall readings for the storm were: San Rafael, 4 inches; San Anselmo, 4.49; Woodacre, 3.92; Santa Venetia, 4; Inverness, 4.6; Fairfax, 3.85; Larkspur, 3.06; Terra Linda, 4.3; Novato, 2.63; Point Reyes Station, 1.34; Belvedere, 2.15; Mill Valley, 3.31; Tamalpais Valley, 2.34; Bolinas, 2.29, and Sausalito, 1.95.

DISASTER CONTROL — When an oak tree fell on his roof in Fairfax, sending branches through the roof, William R. Conrad's first problem was to stop the rush of rain water. In the kitchen, he tried to divert the downpour out the window with a plastic chute.

FATAL

bruises and possible concussion, was reported in good condition.

A Marin County Fire Department rescue crew from Point Reyes Station, headed by Chief Louis J. Bloom, carried out the injured children and the body of Mrs. Wolfe.

Working in the wind, rain and darkness, the rescue crew carried Mrs. Wolfe's body up the 400-foot cliff. Fire wardens working with the rescue crew were Wesley Campigli, Howard Lee, and Michael Aitken.

The last child was rescued at 3 a.m., Bradley reported. Mrs. Wolfe's body was taken to Russell and Gooch Funeral Home, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Wolfe's death was the 24th traffic fatality in Marin this year, compared with the same number last year.

Wolfe is an insurance broker employed by Alexander and Alexander of San Francisco.

and taken to Marin's pound each week, said Morse, and 99 per cent are redeemd by their owners within a few days.

Who buys dogs and cats?

Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley buys a few cats and dogs for research, and University of California is another big buyer.

Jack Harger of Cutter Laboratories said all their research animals are purchased through state-licensed animal dealers. "With each animal we purchase, we have a bill of sale with a descripton of the animal," he said.

How about proof of ownership? Harger said the laboratory relies on the animal dealers' integrity — "they wouldn't risk losing their license."

But Marin County has an ordinance forbidding sale of animals in the pound for medical research, sad Morse.

Stealing dogs and cats is, of course, illegal. They're personal property. But selling animals for medcal research is quite legal.

Morse said new federal laws ban interstate shipment of animals for medical research unless the animals are licensed before sale. No such restriction exists for shipment within the states, so a dealer is not required to show proof of ownership in the form of a license for the animal.

The youths said they were on "a sneak"—a type of scavenger hunt as part of their initiation for the Phi Kappa Fraternity at University of the Pacific at Stockton.

Jenson said the bell would have been placed in the fraternity room at the university.

$50,000 Blaze In Point Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Arson was suspected today in a $50,000 fire that destroyed the abandoned Candlestick Cove Child Care Center in the Hunter's Point section.

A member of the arson squad said it appears someone started the blaze yesterday in the northwest corner of the single-story frame structure which had been closed for sometime.

Thirty pieces of equipment and 140 firemen responded to the three-alarm fire. Firemen were hampered by low water pressure.

The building was scheduled for demolition in the future.

The sun is in total eclipse an average of only four hours and 50 minutes each century.

Court 'Asks' Klansmen Not To Be Jurors

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Superior Court Judge Allen H. Gwyn today said "it is the wish of this court, though not a judicial mandate" that Ku Klux Klansmen excuse themselves from jury duty.

He made the remark in instructions to jurors who had been called to serve during a civil term of Forsyth Superior Court.

None of the 25 prospective jurors made a move to leave. Only one man asked to be excused and that was for a business engagement later in the week.

Later, during a recess, the judge said it was the first time he had asked klansmen not to serve, but that he felt the time had come in North Carolina for the judiciary to speak out on the subject.

He indicated he would make it a policy in the future to ask klansmen to excuse themselves.

After hearing a loud noise yesterday about 8:45 a.m., Fred T. Johnson, 32, of 400 Midway Boulevard, Novato, saw an oxygen and acetylene tank outfit on Novato Boulevard which had just fallen or had been thrown from a passing vehicle, he reported to Novato police.

Police estimated the value of the outfit, which was complete with hoses and gauges, at $200.

HONOR FOR VETERAN ACTRESS

Actress Barbara Stanwyck is all tears as Ronald Reagan, former actor and governor-elect, presents her with the Screen Actors Guild's Black Onyx award "for outstanding achievement in fostering the finest ideals of the acting profession." She cried as Reagan, a former president of the guild, explained at the ceremony in Los Angeles yesterday that it was for her performance as both "an actor and a citizen."

Westmoreland Calls For More Strength

WASHINGTON (UPI —Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. military commander in Viet Nam, said today that still more American troops and equipment are needed to fight the war there.

In calling for more men, Westmoreland did not say just how many would be needed. At present there are about 350,000 U.S. troops of all services in Viet Nam.

REDS SNEAK IN

The four-star general also disclosed, in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report, that the infiltration of Communist troops from North to South Viet Nam was greater — 7,000 a month —than previously reported. Pentagon estimates have ranged from 4,500 to 5,000 a month.

In order to continue to hunt the enemy, hold territory and help provide security for the "pacification" program, Westmoreland said:

"We will need more troops. We will need more helicopters and means of giving these troops mobility. Now it is impractical to have sufficient helicopters or aircraft to transport all of our troops simultaneously. We will have the ability to transport only a fraction of these troops. Therefore, through necessity, a certain number of troops will have to be utilized in a less mobile role, to secure areas and people. . .

"During the coming year, we expect that the South Vietnamese troops will devote more and more of their attention to providing security for the people and productive areas of Viet Nam. They have not been able to do this before.

NORTH'S STRENGTH

Westmoreland estimated there were about 50,000 Communist North Vietnamese troops now in the South, and said that five North Vietnamese divisions were engaged in the war.

Seymour J. Dietchman, the Defense Department's new guerrilla warfare research director, believes it could take "anywhere from half a million to two million" U.S. troops to win the Viet Nam war in as little as five years.

According to Dietchman, casualties would compare with those of the Korean war when 33,629 U.S. servicemen were killed.

From Jan. 1, 1961, through last Nov. 5, a total of 5,823 U.S. servicemen have been killed in Viet Nam.

Westmoreland said he could not estimate how long it might take to win the war. "This is going to take time, patience, resolve and . . . more troops. I cannot predict how long this will take. But I am confident that we must gear ourselves for the long pull."

Reagan Urges Full Viet Nam Strength

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The full resources of the United States should be used to gain a victory in Viet Nan "as quickly as possible," California governor-elect Ronald Reagan said yesterday.

On a nationally-televised question-and-answer program ("Issues and Answers," ABC), Reagan said that although Viet Nam was not a state issue, he as an individual had ideas about what should be done to end the conflict.

"My view is very similar to the one expressed recently by President Eisenhower," the former actor said. "That is that once the killing starts, once you ask young men to fight and die for their country, there's a moral obligation imposed on the rest of us to turn the full resources of this nation into winning the victory that is causing their death as quickly as possible, to bring them home."

Reagan also said he was opposed to halting the bombing of North Viet Nam.

"As long as North Viet Nam supplies and munitions are going south that are being used to kill Americans, I say you knock them out at the place where you can get them in the biggest bunches," he said.

Fighting Poodles Cause Of Accident

"It was my two poodles—they just wouldn't stop fighting," she explained to the druggist and a customer after they had dived behind the counter.

SEARCH FOR CLUES FAILS

Four divers from Marin County sheriff's office plunged into the Petaluma River at the Highway 37 overpass, Black Point, Saturday in search of a gun used in the slaying of an armored car guard in Mountain View earlier this year. No weapon was found, however. A San Rafael man, Gary Rice, 20, of 210 Mission Avenue, and his uncle, Joseph J. Tatton, 31, of San Mateo, are awaiting sentencing in the robbery-murder.

Opposition To Route 17 To Be Given

Eight residents' and businessmen's groups will present a "unity statement" in opposition to Highway 17 proposals when the Marin County Board of Supervisors hold a public hearing on the freeway plans at 8 p.m. today at Olney Hall, College of Marin.

Bart Benedict, co-chairman of the Sequoia Park Homeowners Assn., said: "As a result of a meeting held last week our groups felt a united position of opposition should be presented."

He said the groups are his own, Hilldale Homeowners Assn., Oak Manor Homowners Assn., San Anselmo Homeowners Assn., Business Survival (Miracle Mile businessmen), San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, Sleepy Hollow Homeowners Assn., and Fairfax Citizens Planning Study Group.

Terms of the groups' statement were to be drafted today, but Benedict said in general they oppose all the State Division of Highways' routes.

Owner Is Her Own Customer

PORTSMOUTH, England (UPI)—When Sheila Wallis' own marriage failed, she decided to go into business. She opened a marriage bureau.

On opening day, customer Peter Wood convinced her to close up shop to marry him.

"I never dreamed I'd become my own first customer," said Mrs. Wallis. For Wood, it was something of a surprise, too. He thought he was going to an accountant's office.

Woman Driver Strikes Down Two; One Dies

OAKLAND (AP) — A woman driver fatally struck one woman and seriously injured another today as they crossed an Oakland street — and then sped away in her car, police said.

Mrs. Horace Mae Price, 38, of Oakland, was dragged for nearly half a mile before she fell free of the auto. She died later at an Oakland hospital.

Mrs. Evelyn McMaham, 58, was tossed 59 feet through the air by the impact. She was in serious condition with head injuries.

Police said witnesses who heard the impact saw the car stop a block away in apparent effort to shake Mrs. Price off the hood.

A woman was driving, the witnesses told police.

New streets and expressways in the United States will cover an estimated 750,000 additional miles by the end of the century.

Marin Trustees Advised To Tell The Whole Story

Marin school trustees were advised Saturday to give the public the whole story—good or bad—about their schools if they want to improve public support.

The advice was given at a trustees' workshop for all school boards in the Tamalpais High School District area, held at Tamalpais district headquarters in Larkspur. Speakers were Harry Fosdick, public relations director of California Teachers Assn.; Thomas F. Mullahey of Corte Madera, director of the public affairs department of KRON-TV, and Bryce W. Anderson, Independent - Journal city editor and schools columnist.

Mullahey said school people are being juvenile when they expect to "play down" violence and sensations in the schools. "You can't cover up a riot; it's there," he declared.

Fosdick said teachers and school officials should realize that it is better to tell the truth than to try to gloss over shortcomings with "look how well we did" stories. He cited examples to prove his point.

Anderson offered a simple formula for better school board-community communications: "Tell the truth, and keep the door open."

The program was arranged by Pieter Toal of the San Anselmo School District Board. It was conducted by Dr. William L. Clark, chairman of the Mill Valley board.

Planners To Study Design Review Plan

San Anselmo Planning Commission will consider an ordinance requiring architectural design review at 8 p.m. today at the city hall.

The commission will consider requests from Martha Bruckner for a variance to build a carport at 178 Camino DeHerrera and for a three-lot subdivision on Camino DeHerrera.

Fragments of a human skull half a million years old, the first of its type yet to be found in Europe, were unearthed 30 miles west of Budapest, Hungary.

cows in Marin?

Of course. Oh you won't find us girls at the poshier social functions, or lounging around the lagoon in Tiburon. But you will find us meadow-tating on your rolling green slopes of Marin (no, not the golf course, silly). We've been with you for 3½ years now, and we're mighty proud of that—as we pride ourselves in giving the richest and finest milk the healthiest families always choose. It's the same quality milk our great-grandmother cows were giving back in 1910 when we decided the dairy business was made for us. Only a dumb ox would pull a wagon, Grandpaw used to say. So what about "FARMS IN BERKELEY?!" Aw, we just do that to get a little attention on the radio.

Five Guests Hurt In Elevator Plunge

Five persons were injured when an outside elevator at a Corte Madera home plunged about 50 feet down a hillside track Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

The five, arriving for a party, had ridden the elevator up to the home of Charles Rex at 637 Redwood Avenue. The elevator was about two feet from the top of the track when it plunged back down the hill.

Earl Cox, 34, of San Francisco, was in fair condition with a concussion and cut scalp.

Dale Schwartz, 52, of San Francisco, the fifth passenger in the elevator, was treated for a right arm injury.

Corte Madera police were still investigating the cause of the accident. Police said the elevator has a maximum load of 600 pounds, so was overloaded, but it had a safety device designed to prevent such an accident.

School Bid Report Due At Meeting

Richard Banwell, school architect, will report replanning of the Wilson Avenue Junior High School to the Novato Unified School District Board when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the administration building.

When bids were opened Nov. 2, the lowest bid was approximately $300,000 more than the state allotment for the building. The board rejected all bids and ordered plans redrawn.

The board will also hear the schedule for planning the new high school at San Marin.

Other items to come before the board are call for bids for a language laboratory for the San Jose Junior High School, a study of a central kitchen for cafeteria, and recommendations on housing junior and senior high school students next year.

Students Put On Probation

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford University students and Dean of Students H. Donald Winbigler have placed 34 undergraduate members of Delta Tau Delta fraternity on probation for shaving the head of David Harris, student body president.

Harris was held and his head shaved by a group of boys in Halloween masks last month.

Names of the students placed on probation for the rest of the academic year were withheld.

Mimi Sherman, a senior and president of the Student Judicial Council, said the students involved had "some concern over Harris' dress and public image." He normally wears a beard and moderately long hair.

Los Angeles Symphony's Strike Over, Season Set

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Music lovers, saddened by the recent cancelation of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra season, rejoiced yesterday upon hearing that the seasons has been rescheduled to open Wednesday night.

The season was originally supposed to begin Nov. 3, but was indefinitely cancelled because of contract dispute between the Musicians Union and the Southern California Symphony-Hollywood Bowl Assn.

Union members turned down what the association said was its final offer and it looked like Los Angeles was doomed to a season of silence. But the Orchestra members ratified a new agreement Sunday by a 69-to-20 vote at an early morning meeting at union headquarters.

The three-year pact increases the minimum salary from the previous $180 to $200 per week the first year, to $210 the second season and to $225 the third year.

Orchestra members will work 38 weeks this year, 44 weeks next season and 46, the following year. The musicians' request for a longer season was a major point of the dispute.

Three Fishermen Don't Reach Home

KUSHIRO, Japan (UPI) — The fishing boat returned to port after a long voyage and happy families gathered on the pier as the 13 crewmen climbed into a small boat for the short trip from the mooring.

Russ, U.S. Fish Experts Continue Talks On Issues

The experts are meeting here to prepare statistics for negotiations expected in December or January on a possible agreement governing Soviet fishing in the area.

A 10-man American team arrived here earlier this week. The meeting was ararnged at political negotiations here in July.

The talks were requested by the United States after far-roving, highly-mechanized Soviet fleets began fishing off Oregon and Washington this year.

The Soviet fleets raised fears among the smaller U.S. fleets that the traditional American domination in salmon, perch, and hake fishing in the area would be broken and fish stocks depleted.

The Soviets agreed to suspend all salmon fishing for this year at least, and to discuss ways of conserving the hake and perch stocks.

Performing Arts In Money Troubles

NEW YORK (UPI) —Although twice as many people attend concerts as major league baseball games, the performing arts are in deep financial trouble, an economic study on the arts revealed today.

Performing Arts—The Economic Dilemma, a report released by the Twentieth Century Fund, also said that although there are more theatre goers than boaters, skiers, golfers and skin divers combined, the performing arts will need over $60 million in contributions by 1975 to stay alive.

The 560 page report, compiled by Princeton University economists William J. Baumol and William C. Bowen, is a critical look at the dollars and cents behind the footlights.

The two year study pointed out that ticket prices for the theatre, ballet, opera and music have not kept step with the rising costs of performers' salarie, and production.

The report stated that although the average ticket price to the Metropolitan Opera here is $8.09 a seat, musicians make only an average, annual salary of $4,720 while dancers make only $3,483 a year.

While Broadway shows on the whole make a profit, Baumol and Bowen said, an actor's average salary is only $5,640, creating what the writers call the "income gap."

The economists expressed concern that the low salaries plus competition from motion pictures and television could spell doom for "live" performances if revenues, other than ticket sales are not found.

Higher Clothes Tags Forecast In 1967

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Strong consumer and military demand, coupled with increased operating costs in the garment industry, will make for more expensive clothing next year.

Virginia Britton, a specialist in the Agriculture Department's consumer and food economics research division, said Sunday that prices of some men's suits "are expected to increase next spring by as much as $5, and by next fall the increases may be fairly widespread at an estimated maximum of 5 per cent."

Minor Crash Injuries

William D. Gray, 26, of 100 Belvedere Drive, Strawberry, suffered a forehead scrape and knee and ankle pains when his car spun out on Highway 101 and struck a light pole at the Jacoby Street southbound on-ramp at 12:35 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported. Gray was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Editor Says Press Image Threatened

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Lawyers and courts are blackening the image of the press "with the epithet of pretrial publicty," says J. Edward Murray, managing editor of the Arizona Republic.

Murray made the comments Friday during a panel discussion at the 33rd annual convention of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. The discussion was on the image of the newspaper.

Murray said he had made a careful study of the accusations of the bench and bar and decided that "pretrial publicity is an actual issue in only the tiniest percentage of cases, and then there are many ways to deal with it."

Murray cited the findings of a survey of what he called "a dozen well-qualified people who are in the profession or on the edge of it."

"A consensus of the criticism from the questionnaire indicates that newspaper character, overall, projects favorably. The state of our health is good," he said.

Murray mentioned three sources of newspaper criticism.

These are the specialists who believe that the newspaper is too shallow in its coverage, the protest generation of college students and what he termed "the idealists, reformers and utopians."

These critics believe that newspapers are "simplistic and conformist and timid," Murray said.

Couple Says Vows In 'Mod' Wedding

DETROIT (UPI) —The Michigan State Fairgrounds, usually the site of such traditional activities as carnivals and pie-eating contests, yesterday was the setting for something new—a mod wedding.

The bride, Randy Rossi, a 19-year-old go-go dancer, wore a mini-gown that rose eight inches above the knee. In keeping with traditional bridal modesty, though, she wore white satin boots that reached to within an inch of the hemline.

The groom, Gary Norris, 25, an artist, was elegantly attired in a plaid suit, cowboy belt, and six-inch wide flowered tie.

While the couple was joined in matrimony, a youth circled the stage toting a five-foot long representation of a Baby Ruth candy bar, and 20 youths in mod outfits performed the latest dances to the music of a bearded motorcyclist beating on the hood of an old Desoto with a sledgehammer.

The man behind the event witnessed the ceremony while seated atop a carton of soup cans. He is Andy Warhol, leading proponent of pop art. He planned the wedding as part of a three-day Carnaby Street festival for teen-age mod adherents at the fairgrounds.

The bride's mother complained after the event, "This is not exactly the wedding I had planned for my daughter.

School Leader Seeking Film On LSD Dangers

SAN MATEO (UPI)—A San Mateo school official hopes to get a major movie producer, such as Walt Disney, to make an instructional film on the dangers of LSD.

Dr. Leon Lessinger, superintendent of the San Mateo Union High School District, said 80 cases of teen-age use of LSD have been reported in San Mateo County. He said many other cases had undoubtedly gone unreported.

Lessinger said a professional film was needed to educate students about the dangers of the drug. His office has already produced an instructional film on the subject for showing to selected groups of students, parents and teachers. It is titled "LSD—The Acid Test."

Wednesday, Lessinger plans to go to Sacramento to ask State Superintendent of Schools Max Rafferty for aid in his attempts to enlist a producer.

Man Just Attempting To Save Home Brew

DALLAS (UPI)—The 44-year-old man tried again and again to rush into the basement of the burning apartment where he lived. Police restrained him each time.

Finally they arrested him. Then added more charges when they found what he was trying to save: ten gallons of illegal homemade beer.

(Independent-Journal photos)

New Tower Serves Many Voices In Marin County

Calling for a plumber? Tractor? Policeman? Heating man? Fireman? Tire salesman?

If so, chances are your request will be relayed off the crest of San Rafael Hill, where various Marin County businesses and public agencies maintain radio transmitters to contact roving mobile units.

Currently there are six transmitter "towers" on the hill, but five are unsightly utility poles supporting the antenna itself. The sixth is a 105-foot steel structure which was built two months ago.

To clean up the summit, city officials and property owners want all radio outlets placed on the new tower, which was constructed by Marin Communications Inc., a joint enterprise of Radio KTIM and Redwood Radio-telephone Corp. of San Rafael.

Four mobile radio operators, including the California Highway Patrol, already have placed their antennas on the triangular tower on a rental basis, and further negotiations toward transmitter consolidation are underway.

But this may take two years, City Manager Dan E. Andersen warned yesterday.

"It could be a year or two until the leases and use permits expire," he said, "so we'll have to wait until that happens."

Most of the radio operators have leased land for their transmitters from private individuals.

One of the lessors, Fran Jenkins, a San Rafael realtor who owns property on the hill, says he is "terribly eager to get it cleaned up," since he plans home development off Dollar Scenic Drive there.

Originally it was to have been built some distance south of the present location, but city officials feared it would mar the view of the Easter Cross on the crest's south side, facing downtown San Rafael.

As to the tower's aesthetic drawbacks, Andersen hoped growing foliage would shield it, at least from the bottom of the hill.

REMOVAL SOUGHT — San Rafael city officials and property owners want these utility poles eliminated, and their radio transmitters moved to new, 105-foot steel tower nearby, to clean up San Rafael Hill.

Stamps Said Not Hurting Consumer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Trading stamps increase food prices about 2 per cent, but their elimination would have little effect on the consumer's purse, according to a representative of the nation's food merchants.

In a radio debate yesterday, Clarence Adamy, president of the National Assn. of Food Chains, said the benefits from a ban on the stamps would be erased by a loss in sales volume.

His assertion replied to a suggestion that trading stamps either be outlawed or made optional. This idea was broached by John Lamula, director of the New York "Truth Squad," who claimed stamps added 3 to 5 per cent to food costs.

Lamula said his group has cabled Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, asking him to call for legislation "that will establish a dual pricing system with or without stamps or possibly the elimination of stamps."

Under the dual system, housewives would pay one price if she wanted stamps and another if she did not, he said.

Adamy said a drop in food prices would require "some big breakthrough in knowledge," such as the shift from small groceries to self-service supermarkets in the 1930s. However, advance like this is "not immediately on the horizon," he said.

Prison Escapee Back In Custody

DALY CITY (UPI) — A Folsom Prison escapee was arrested yesterday after a motel operator recognized him from a wanted poster and called police.

Bernard J. Mora, 31, who escaped Oct. 16 while serving a sentence for mail theft, was arrested by Daly City police along with a woman companion. He offered no resistance.

Benito Mussolini was wounded in World War I.

Former Policeman Dies In Accident

BENICIA (AP) — A former Vallejo policeman was killed last night on rain-slick Highway 40 near Benicia when his camper truck skidded and struck a guard rail.

The victim was Jerry Lloyd Pierce, 27, of Martinez, who had resigned from the Vallejo police force four month ago after six years service to enter business.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Brief Case Can Be Turned Into A Gigantic Grief Case

VAN DELLEN

Several years ago I was accustomed to bringing home a brief case full of medical papers, books, and reports demanding attention. So long as it remained in my study, I could not relax. On the nights that I worked it was difficult to sleep because my mind was overstimulated.

As a result I was tired and less efficient the next day which only meant more work to do the following night.

It was the start of a vicious cycle. My brief case had become a grief case, and unless I disciplined myself to leave it at the office I would never have leisure time.

MANY BUSINESS and professional men work constantly to become the top man on the totem pole. They are riddled by ambition and the desire to excel and cannot let go because relaxation spells danger. These persons become nervous and fidgety when they have nothing to do and "champ at the bit" when asked to spend a quiet evening with neighbors.

It has been said that if a man cannot finish his work in eight hours he has too many jobs, is a poor organizer, or is not a good an executive as he is rated to be.

From a medical point of view the majority are excellent candidates for a heart attack, ulcer, and high blood pressure. Some are unhappy but are in so deep they cannot retract. A heart attack will solve their problem because it offers the excuse they need.

IT MAY NOT be easy to forget the events of the day. Some men find relaxation in a cocktail before dinner. It provides a wonderful interlude and is enjoyable so long as the conversation is pleasant. This is no time to dish out criticism. Hobbies serve two purposes. Some men become so engrossed that they forget their troubles; others think more clearly while doing simple tasks.

Too many community affairs and committee meetings tend to rob the individual of his leisure time. They are worthwhile, but when you have had your turn, let someone else take over.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope is mailed to the Independent-Journal.

NOT CONTAGIOUS

Mrs. T. writes: My 3-year-old daughter plays with two children who have had rheumatic fever. Can she catch it from them?

REPLY

No. The only contagious aspect of rheumatic fever is the streptococcal infection of the throat and tonsils that usually precedes the onset of rheumatic fever by 10 to 14 days. Once the stage of swollen joints and heart murmur appears, the disease cannot be transmitted.

INFLAMED BRONCHI

O. P. writes: Is bronchitis an infection or an allergy?

REPLY

Both conditions are capable of causing congestion of the bronchial membranes, which in turn leads to cough. Most case of asthmatic bronchitis are on an allergic basis, whereas the ordinary bronchitis that follows a cold usually is due to bacterial or viral invasion.

SHOCK INJURES HEART

P. M. writes: Could a severe electric shock injure the heart?

REPLY

Yes, by causing the ventricles to fibrillate. But those who survive usually have no residual cardiac damage.

CAN'T CRY

Mrs. B. F. writes: Is there anything wrong with a woman who can't cry when she gets upset?

REPLY

No, but she lacks a wonderful safety valve.

CRACKED EGGS

F. G. writes: Recently you wrote not to use cracked eggs. What if the egg cracks while it is being boiled?

REPLY

An egg that cracks in the pot is not harmful. Eggs that are cracked when purchased may be contaminated with Salmonella organisms, a cause of food poisoning. These germs are destroyed by boiling. Cracked eggs are harmful when used raw or in a cake mix.

Brown, Reagan Will Talk Shop; Wives To Tour House

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown and Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan planned to talk shop at the Capitol today while their wives went over the housekeeping operation at the Executive Mansion.

Brown, the outgoing Democrat was to discuss the transition of administrations with Reagan, the victorious gubernatorial candidate.

Reagan told a news conference Friday the meeting was arranged at Brown's invitation. Reagan said he was not sure what would be discussed in their first meeting since the Nov. 8 election.

Bernice Brown planned to brief Nancy Reagan on operation of the 19th century governor's residence 10 blocks from the Capitol. Both meetings were at 2 p.m.

Almost 30-million new homes have been built since World War II.

The traffic near your home, for instance.

Take a tip from an independent study of police accident reports in Michigan. Out of a total of 109 people who died in Michigan traffic accidents over the Memorial Day, 4th of July and Labor Day weekends, 79 died within 25 miles of their homes. Over 70%!

So this Thanksgiving Day weekend, no matter what state you live in, it's a good idea to stop taking familiar surroundings—or anything else—for granted.

Your Car. Just because it's been running like a top for months, don't be lulled into thinking it'll perform dependably forever. Have your car checked regularly, even if it doesn't happen to send up a trouble signal.

Other Drivers. Just because you haven't had any close calls in traffic recently is no reason to think that other drivers are getting smarter. Be ready for anything. Plan ahead for dangerous situations, such as people getting out of cars from the wrong side or cars going through stop signs.

Yourself. Maybe you know people who've made it home half asleep after a late party. They were lucky. Because you can't be a safe driver when you're tired. Also, as you probably know, many fatal accidents involve drinking drivers. So a little common sense can save your life.

Thanksgiving is a wonderful holiday. But it's no time to let down your guard.

One of the most important things we've learned about safety over the last 58 years is this:

Safe driving depends on three things. THE CAR. THE ROAD. AND YOU. Tell your friends.

Roman Prelates Call For Open Housing In Expanding Suburbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Roman Catholic bishops, in a major pronouncement on race relations, called Saturday night for dropping the bars that keep Negroes from living in many of the nation's expanding suburbs.

Urgently they recommended "a true sense of neighborliness, based upon a religiously inspired conviction that all men are equal before God and that all should be welcomed in our midst."

POVERTY WAR

The bishops also called for stepped-up attacks on poverty and on inadequate education, and for strong implementation of laws against racial discrimination and against denial of the vote.

This was one of the pronouncements drafted at this week's path- breaking session of the newly named and reorganized National Conference of Catholic Bishops.

At a news conference, bishops speaking for the conclave noted that J. Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles — scene of the bloody Watts riots — had moved the adoption of the "splendid statement" and had called for its endorsement "most cordially."

It was approved unanimously by the more than 200 bishops present.

The statement advised an end of sloganeering. It did not mention any specific slogan, such as the "black power" cry of some Negroes or the "your home is your castle, protect it" motto with which George P. Mahoney vainly sought the governorship of Maryland.

IN DANGER

"We note with sorrow," the statement said, "that civil strife is an ever-present danger. There have been riots in our cities. Racial antagonism has been fostered under many emotionally charged and irrational slogans. Moreover we are still confronted with the depressing problems of poverty, joblessness, and urban and rural slums.

"As American citizens we deplore the fact that such conditions exist in a nation so endowed with wealth. As Christian leaders, we must repeat the constant refrain of recent Popes, and of Vatican Council II, that material goods are held in stewardship for the welfare of all men. Destitution, and degrading, avoidable poverty hurt family life, blight the promise of youth, and lead to a bitter harvest of sickness, delinquency and crime."

HOUSING SCORE

On the score of housing, the bishops made no mention of the open housing legislation, which was lost in the recent session of Congress.

But they said: "As our nation becomes increasingly suburban, industry and service occupations are expanding far more rapidly in the suburbs than in our inner cities. We cannot hope to solve the problem of joblessness in our cities if men and women are denied the opportunity of living near possible places where work is available.

"While the issue of fair housing has been the source of grave tensions in some parts of our nation, conditions have noticeably improved in certain areas.

ON WELFARE

On the subject of welfare, the bishops came out against the policy followed in some areas of denying aid to needy families if there is an able-bodied man in the house.

"Where welfare relief is necessary," they said, "it should be given in a context that favors family stability and respects the human dignity of those who cannot earn their living."

The statement was the next to the last one adopted by the bishops.

NEW POWERS

The five-day conference dealt with a mass of work, including new powers devolving on it from the Vatican Council (1962-1965). Among other things it:

Elected a president for the first time, Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit.

Accused federal agencies of pressuring the poor to practice birth control, a charge quickly denied by the federal agencies involved and by private organizations promoting birth control.

Proposed important liturgical changes, subject to Rome's approval, including one that the entire canon of the Mass — the focal point — be recited in English. Already in this country, other parts of the Mass are generally celebrated in the vernacular.

FORGIVENESS MASS

Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski braves a bitter wind at an outdoor altar at Bialystok, Poland, to end Poland's Christian millennium celebration. In yesterday's mass attended by 40,000, he called for forgiveness of Communist authorities for their hostility to the year-long event. (AP Wirephoto)

Two hundred forty million persons will be living on 8.7 per cent of the land area of the United States by the year 2000 and only 60 million will live on the remaining 91.3 per cent unless plans for population dispersal go into effect.

U.S. Bishops Give Moral Support To Viet Position

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Catholic bishops of the United States today voiced moral support of America's basic position in the Viet Nam war, but said "It is the duty of everyone to search for other alternatives."

"And everyone —government leaders and citizens alike — must be prepared to change our course whenever a change in circumstances warrants it," they declared in a joint statement.

The statement was adopted by a vote of 189 to 6 at the closing session of the U.S. hierarchy's annual meeting here Friday. It was held back for release to newsmen today.

Drafted by Lawrence Cardinal Shehan of Baltimore, and amended during several hours of warm debate, the 1,250-word document amounted to a qualified vote of confidence in the Johnson administration's policy in Viet Nam.

"Americans can have confidence in the sincerity of their leaders as long as they work for a just peace in Viet Nam," the bishops said.

"We realize that citizens of all faiths . . . honestly differ among themselves over the moral issues involved in this tragic conflict. While we do not claim to be able to resolve these issues authoritatively, in the light of the facts as they are known to us, it is reasonable to argue that our presence in Viet Nam is justified."

But the bishops went on to say, "We are also bound always to make sure that our government does, in fact, pursue every possibility that offers even the slightest hope of a peaceful settlement.

"And we must clearly protest whenever there is a danger that the conflict will be escalated beyond morally acceptable limits."

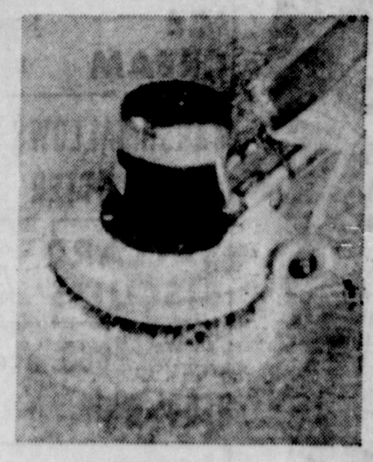
DEEP STEAM Wall to Wall Carpet Cleaning

This unique new process cleans deep and yet treats the finest carpet with loving care . . .

DEEP STEAM removes soil from both the pile of the carpet and the carpet backing. Since no brushes or scrubbing action are used, there is no distortion of the carpet pile. The powerful extraction action of the DEEP STEAM process lifts matted pile to "like new" appearance. The need of frequent professional cleaning is reduced because deeply embedded soil is removed and leaves no residue in the carpet fibers to collect dirt.

OLD

The old equipment with brushes, using liquid detergent or powder, scrubs the soil DEEPER into the fabric . . . and even with the help of a vacuum fails to remove soil or residue. The detergent or powder left in the fabric soon attracts more soil and it is not long before the soil works back to the surface. Soon your carpets appear more soiled than before!



THIS DEEP STEAM PROCESS IS GUARANTEED TO BE COMPLETELY SAFE ON ALL FABRICS UNDER ALL CONDITIONS!

The advantages of DEEP STEAM CLEANING are obvious!

Gondola Centerpiece Features Food From First Thanksgiving

. . . And Squanto, the Indian friend of the Pilgrims, brought clams and lobsters and fish to add to the festivities.

This gondola centerpiece made from food gathered for the first Thanksgiving is attractive and apropos for a turkey day buffet. With the proper ingredients and a little American ingenuity it should create no insurmountable problem for the enthusiastic Marin hostess.

These are the ingredients:

The hull of the gondola is a scooped-out Banana Squash with the canopy and the gondolier fashioned from the same squash. The decorations on either end are lobsters. In this case the bow decoration is a Maine Lobster and the stern is a Western Lobster. The antebellum ladies in the gondola are made from pure white scallop shells. Decorating the canopy are cherry tomatoes toothpicked onto prawns. Round sections of squash are pinned to the sides as bases for oars of crab legs. All of this is set in a sea of clams, blue oysters, and Gulf Prawns in a bed of parsley. Add decoratively cut tomatoes and lemons and your centerpiece is both clever and timely.

New And Old Improves Bird—

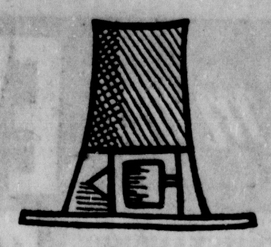
The new is one of those roasting pans with a teflon lining that keeps drippings from sticking and helps you make fine gravy. If you are in the market for one of these non-stick roasters, be sure to consider the kind that is really shallow and that has an adjustable rack. We stress the shallow depth because we are convinced that it helps a bird to roast rather than steam.



NOW TO the old—an absolutely wonderful recipe for turkey "filling" kindly given to us by a friend. It's called filling because the grandmother who many years ago brought the recipe from England, lived in a New Jersey town that bordered on the Pennsylvania-German area. And when you have Pennsylvania-Dutch neighbors, you're inclined to call stuffing "filling."

The mixture is so simple — bread, butter, onion, salt and pepper. But what unadulterated and alluring flavor! Properly made, this is a dry-type stuffing rather than the solid moist kind. And to make it properly, be sure to use a firm, non-spongy, homemade type of bread.

This dressing is ideal for a holiday meal where everyone from Grandfather to the young ones sit around the family table. It's not too rich, not too highly seasoned. It's just utterly good eating.

ROAST TURKEY WITH GRANDMOTHER WATERS' BREAD FILLING

1½ (1 pound) loaves of thinly sliced homemade-type bread (27 slices including crusty ends)
¾ cup butter
1½ cups finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons salt teaspoon pepper
12-pound turkey

About 12 to 24 hours before you plan to prepare the turkey filling, spread the bread slices in a single layer over racks; they will just fit over the rack of a shallow roasting pan (15½ by 12 by 1⅝ inches) and 2 square cake racks. Allow the bread to stand at room temperature, uncovered, to dry thoroughly; turn once or twice to facilitate drying.

WHEN ready to stuff turkey, have a deep bowl of cold water ready and also a bowl to hold the bread after crushing. Dip 1 slice of the dry bread into the cold water for about 10 seconds; then hold the slice over the other bowl and use your hands to crush and crumble it so that you have some pieces a little larger than a dime and some fine crumbs. Continue doing this with each slice of bread. Then saute the breadcrumbs, ⅓ at a time, as follows.

In a 10-inch skillet, melt ¼ cup of the butter and add ½ cup of the onion; cook gently until onion is soft and golden; add ⅓ of the bread and cook, tossing lightly with a long-handled fork, for about 3 minutes. Turn into a large bowl. After all the bread has been sauteed, add salt and pepper and toss thoroughly and lightly without packing down. Spoon stuffing into neck and body cavity of turkey being careful not to press it in too tightly.

Rub turkey with soft butter and place on the adjustable rack of a shallow teflon-lined roasting pan (15½ by 12 by 1⅝ inches). Roast according to your favorite method. (AP)

Scandinavian Cuisine Offers Delicate Hot Fish Dish

Prepare Fish
5 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon white pepper
2 eggs, separated
1 pint light cream
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs

Mix the Prepared Fish with the flour, salt and pepper. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon color; stir into fish mixture; gradually beat in cream. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in. Turn into a 5-cup fish-shape ceramic mold that has been buttered and sprinkled with the crumbs; cover tightly with foil. Bake in a pan of hot water (coming ¾ way up mold) in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 1 hour or until silver knife inserted in center comes out clean. Let stand about 5 minutes, turn out. Makes 6 servings.

PREPARED FISH: Coarsely grind 1 pound fish fillets twice, then finely grind twice, putting ¼ cup butter through with fish the last time.

Dark, Spicy Pumpkin Pie Is Garnished With Walnuts

We're definitely playing favorites.

This year the pumpkin pie we recommend is the dark and spicy variety. Handsome, too. Cooks who favor a pumpkin pie that's blonde and mild had better look elsewhere! Or if your family is divided on the important subject of just how spicy or mild a pumpkin pie should be, bake one of each kind. They'll always remember you lovingly for your effort. For, after all, "What moistens the lip and what brightens the eye — What calls back the past, like the rich Pumpkin Pie?"

This recipe makes life easy for a cook; it calls for a stick of prepared pie-crust for the pastry shell needed. For the pie plate, you may choose ovenproof glass. However, if you have a favorite metal pan that gives good results, don't hesitate, of course, to use that.

DARK AND SPICY PUMPKIN PIE

1 pie-crust stick
2 large eggs
1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar (if lumpy, sift before measuring)
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pumpkin-pie spice
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup maple-blended syrup
1½ cups canned mashed pumpkin
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk, Whipped cream and toasted walnuts (for garnish)

Use pie-crust stick to prepare pastry for a 9-inch one crust pie shell as directed on inside wrapper.

In a medium mixing bowl, beat the eggs until whites and yolks are combined. Add the brown sugar, salt, pumpkin-pie spice, cinnamon and nutmeg; stir to blend. Stir and blend in the syrup, pumpkin and evaporated milk. Pour into prepared pie shell.

Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven until a silver knife inserted 1-inch from the side of the filling comes out clean — 45 to 50 minutes. Place on wire rack to cool.

The Proper Method In Carving Turkey

Will that succulent Thanksgiving turkey be carved into beautiful, mouth-watering slices, or will the man of the house hack it into a mangled wreck?

Carving a turkey is an annual trauma for some people, but is simplicity itself for others. As with so many things, it's easy when you know how.

Drawings show you how. First, remove the leg by turning the turkey on its side with its breastbone away from you. Hold the end of the drumstick and pull it forward as the knife cuts through the joint. (Figure 1.)

Carve the thigh after the leg. Expose the thighbone by slicing down to it. Remove the thighbone by running the point of the knife around it and lifting it up with the fork. Then finish slicing the thigh meat. (Figure 3.)

If you want only a few large slices from the breast, carve with the grain. Slice lengthwise until you reach the wing joint, then remove the wing. Continue slicing until you have carved all the white meat on one side of the turkey. (Figure 4.)

If you want several small slices from the breast, carve across the grain. First remove the wing, then slice at an angle of about 45 degrees. Continue carving slices until you reach the breastbone. Loosen the slices by cutting along the bone under them. (Figure 5.)

And that's all there is to it.

Provided, of course, that you have the proper tools. An article on "Meat and Meat Carving" in World Book Encyclopedia says:

"The well-kept carving set is very important to good carving. A good carving knife needs to be sharpened only once in a while, but it should always be steeled before using.

"A meat platter or a carving board allows more room for cutting and makes carving easier. A large carving fork holds the meat much more firmly than an ordinary dinner fork."

DAILY: 9:00 - 10:00; SUNDAY: 9:00 - 9:00

LOCATED IN FAIR-ANSELM SHOPPING CENTER—FAIRFAX

EVERYTHING TO DELIGHT a child is found in the playroom of the John Dupens' home. Sitting in the wings is Mrs. Keith Power, a member of the Sausalito nursery school which is sponsoring the house tour on Nov. 30, that will include this house. Riding the hobby horses are four-year-old David Kudler, left, and four-year-old Michael Pieraccini.

TWO SHIFTS

Shuttle Service Planned For Sausalito House Tour

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The annual Sausalito House Tour, a benefit for the Sausalito Cooperative Nursery School, will be held on Nov. 30 in two shifts, from 12:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Shuttle service will be provided leaving all afternoon from the Sausalito Hotel at 16 El Portal, where at the end of the tour three will be a champagne reception and Christmas boutique featuring gifts and decorations for the holiday season.

The hotel, which is noted for its Victorian decor, will be open for inspection by guests.

ITEMS ON SALE at the boutique under the direction of Joan Foley will vary greatly, ranging from fur pillows to nursery school art.

Each of the six homes on the tour will be decorated for the holidays so that guests will not only be seeing interesting Sausalito homes but unusual and original Christmas decorations as well. Hostesses in the homes will wear fashions provided by Sausalito shops.

Chairmen of the event are Mesdames H. J. Recktenwald, Rodman Starke, John Dupen, Joel Kudler, Joan Foley, Warren Hansen and Robert Barney.

Tickets may be obtained at the hotel on the day of the tour, from Mrs. Warren Hansen or by calling the Sausalito Nursery School.

THE HOME OF the John Dupens at 50 Cable Rd. was built four years ago around a zest for living and four energetic children. Designers Campbell and Wong gave as much though to their rooms—including a remarkable playroom—as to adult living areas. The home is filled with personal treasures from a Picasso plate to children's art.

Points to note are color throughout the house, a fine brass bed, Tiffany lamps and pool area.

Decor consultants were Joan Foley and Dennis Redmond.

At the year-old John Campbell home—of the firm of Campbell and Wong—interesting features are walls of cedar panels and draperies made of strips of white linen tape corresponding with panel widths. Furnishings are a combination of antique and modern with 300-year-old Spanish doors at the top of the stairway. An Indian tent used for festive occasions hangs from the ceiling and there is a collection of 100-year-old marine maps.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rudzinski live in a 40-year-old home at 272 Glen Dr. which reflects their creative talents. Eye-catching are colorful birds of paper mache and large metal candle burning chandelier hanging from the ceiling. There is much use of wallpaper, some hand stencilled, and furnishings are early American primitive. Many oil paintings by Mr. Rudzinski are on the walls.

THE SCOTT McDONALD apartment in the Smith-Taylor apartments (Campbell and Wong) with interior design by Joan Foley shows what can be done to turn a typical apartment into an interesting home. Outstanding here are Mr. Mc Donald's art collection put together so that different eras compliment each other. Antique Oriental tastes are combined with the contemporary.

All major rooms of the Raymond Syufys' home at 156 Harrison open outside. Architect for this home having a 10-foot ceiling in the entrance hall was Vincent Raney and interior design was done by Rudley Kelly. The living room carpet was cut to match drapery trim. The house has travertine floors and 11 bathrooms, one containing a marble bathtub cut in Italy.

The home of the Perry Biestmans at 19 Prospect was built by the Wright family as a summer house in 1906 or 1907. In the playroom children are invited to paint pictures on the old papered walls which are merely painted over when paintings are changed. Art objects include ancient primitive pieces and contemporary paintings. Christmas ornaments are old, and there is a collection of early 20th Century postal cards. In the basement is the studio-workshop of Mrs. Biestman, who is a professional metalsmith.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Teen-Age Daughter's Private Phone Causing More Problems

DEAR HELEN:

Our daughter, age 14, got a private phone in her room for her birthday—not an extension but a different number from ours. She promised she would not misuse it, and said she'd pay the bill from her baby-sitting.

Well, that phone rings night and day. Sometimes she is talking at midnight. I don't know why the receiver doesn't start growing from her ear, it's there so much!

And somehow her baby-sitting money always goes for something els. She ignores the bills till we pay them, in desperation. We get tough and she straightens up for a couple of days, and then it's the same old jingle.

JANGLED NERVES

DEAR J. N.

"Excommunicate" her! Let the bills pile up for a couple of months and the phone company will end your worries.

H.

DEAR HELEN:

What to do with twins, age 15, who hate each other's sight? They punch and fight—and one always gets the worst of it. Sometimes I think they are jealous of the air each breathes. When they are served anything they count and see if each got the exact amount, even with peas!

FRUSTRATED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER

It would be an unusual family that didn't have "sibling rivalry" (polite, and kinda hokey, explanation of why the kids play tunes on each other's heads)

Twins sometimes get a double dose because they compete at the same time for the same goals—also they are often so much alike they recognize the bad in themselves mirrored in the other and resent it mightily.

When they fight, they may be striving for separate identities. Perhaps one or both can't stand the thought of being only half a set.

Try separating them as much as possible. Direct them toward different pursuits, different studies, different friends. They will probably outgrow this rivalry in a year or two when they mature and realize the only worthwhile person to compete with is—yourself!

H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband is an alcoholic. Don't suggest A.A.—he enjoys being a drunk. He uses his alcholism as a whip to keep the children and myself in line. He humiliates us, beats us, keeps us penniless. He has reeled into classrooms at school making trouble, and has caused me to lose several good positions.

Our oldest child escaped into marriage at 16. But I have three children at home and no child should live like this. They have nightmares, two are bedwetters, nail biters and one is withdrawing from the world.

I took the children and left once. It was Heaven — I got a good job (am trained as telephone supervisor and have no trouble finding work) and my husband couldn't find me. But then I became seriously ill and the hospital notified him. He made us come home — his threats are frightening.

It has become worse since then. The other night he started punching me around. Usually I make the children go into the bedroom and lock their doors, but this time our oldest blew up. She flew at him, kicking and screaming and shouting, "I pray every night that you'll die!" Then the two younger ones came out and said, "We pray that too."

Helen, we can't go on like this. My husband won't change. Perhaps he's sick, but it's a sickness he doesn't want to cure. My children's welfare is more important, even than my life. I must leave, but how? He has made it so we have no money at all — we even have to beg for grocery money, from day to day.

I'd have to go a long ways off, or he would find us. Is there any organization that can help? — T. O. R.

DEAR T:

Surely you have friends in your town and one of them is brave enough to give you and the children a start toward a new life.

Another solution: Call a lawyer and ask him the address of your nearest Family Service Agency or Legal Aid Society. You'll receive valuable advice from either organization.

You know, if I were faced with a situation as bad as your five-page letter describes, and I had no resources nor any money for bus fare, I'd make sandwiches with whatever was left in the house, bundle up the kids — and start hitchhiking. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

JAMES ELLIOTT PEARCE claimed Marilyn Lincoln as his bride at a ceremony at the Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley and a reception followed at the Mill Valley Tennis Club. High school juniors and seniors and their parents who are interested in Scripps College at Claremont are invited to a meeting Nov. 29 sponsored by alumnae of the college. Mrs. Marilyn Blum, dean of admissions at the college, will be the speaker at the meeting which will be held at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. William V. Glascock, 27 Estelle Ave., Larkspur. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Gerald M. Gunn, 11 Marie St., Sausalito.

Eyes right for gilttering occasions will be laden with diamond-like snow and trimmed in fur.

Hearing Defects Topic For Panel

The Marin County Parents of Hearing Handicapped Children have planned a panel discussion for their 8 o'clock meeting on Tuesday at Gallinas School Annex in San Rafael.

The subject for the panel will be "Beyond Gallinas" which will concern hearing handicapped young people after they leave the elementary school program.

Panelists from the Bay Area will be Russell Jacobs, a former student in the Marin County Classes for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing who now attends a regular public school; Mrs. Dorothy Hicks, Russell's present teacher; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Saks, congenitally deaf adults with two hearing children; and Rev. CIRCLES AND SQUARES—Mill Valley printmaker John Ihle's exhibit at the San Francisco Museum of Art includes this "Square and Pillar," color relief etching on copper and plastic plates, as art form derived from the circle and square.

ART REVIEW

Marin Printmaker A Purist Of Style

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Even with variations, the circle and the square are pretty elementary. To elicit originality from them in pure form is one of the most difficult tasks an artist can set for himself, yet Mill Valley printmaker John Ihle takes just these shapes and makes them pass from the realm of basic geometry into the realm of art.

In the San Francisco Museum of Art exhibit he shares with etcher Gordon Cook, Ihle never veers from these rigid circle-square designs. They give his prints instant power but unlike much of the impact work done today, Ihle's prints survive that critical second look. They not only survive it, they become more and more compelling the longer you linger over them.

At first, even the intricate squiggles with which Ihle loads his shapes appear as a static mass. Scrutinized, they begin to travel and become individualized. They move the eye purposefully into and through their spacial confines and whether they become like microscopic matter or writings from lost language, they each become mysteriously meaningful.

Perhaps these organic or symbolic characteristics reflect Ihle's early stint as botanical illustrator for the Chicago Museum of Natural History and his later study of Mayan ruins in Yucatan. Whatever the source, the effect is fascinating.

Ihle further stretches the circle-square limitations by using plates from one print as part of another with results that seem quite different. The central cores in "Red Circle to the Half Power," and "Circle to the Full Power," are obviously from the same plate, yet you feel surprised by it. Whereas, white relief on red contrasts strongly in the first, in the latter's white on white it becomes a nuance.

Indeed, nuance is the hidden strength of Ihle's prints. For all their apparent directness and crisp professionalism — depth and sensitivity are always just beneath awaiting closer study. It is worth the extra moments spent discovering the "art" in them.

Marin Singer To Be Soloist

Contralto Ruth Jarboe of Novato will be one of the featured soloists when the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary Oratorio Choir gives its annual presentation of Handel's "The Messiah" Dec. 2 at 8 p.m. in Broadus Chapel on the Strawberry campus.

Other soloists will be soprano Patricia Wilson of Concord and seminary students Jerald Reeves, tenor, and Elwynn Gunn, bass.

The choir will be conducted by Dr. Carlyle D. Bennett, chairman of the church music department, and the organist will be Mrs. George Suffern.

Religious Play By Student Scheduled

A one-act play, "Inherit the Kingdom," written by Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary student Elwyn Gunn, will be presented Dec. 6 in Broadus Chapel on the Strawberry campus at 8 p.m.

The modern drama, dealing with the conflict of materialism and responsibility, will be directed by Dr. J. B. Nichols, director of religious drama at the seminary and the cast will be composed of students.

MUSIC REVIEW

New Soprano, Pianist Charm Small Group

Mezzo soprano Marcelle Minault Strong, new to the musical scene in Marin, and pianist Robaline Meacham, both of Mill Valley, charmed a small audience yesterday afternoon in a chamber music recital at St. Paul's Episocopal Church in San Rafael.

The concert was sponsored by the Marin branch of the California Music Teachers Assn. as a benefit for its scholaship fund.

The program was rather an ambitious one, since it was dominated by Lisderkreise, or German song cycles, a difficult form appealing largely to specialized and sophisticated taste. They demand of the music lover an ability and willingness to become involved in these poems, dealing in highly emotional terms with the beauties of Nature and with 19th century ideals of love and romance. Of the singer they require a considerable gift for lyrical expression, carefully controlled to avoid excess.

Miss Strong, who has a pleasing voice, especially in the middle register, has this gift for lyrical expression, as she proved in Beethoven's six-poem cycle, "An Die Ferne Geliebte" and Schumann's eight-poem cycle, "Frauenliebe und Leben." However, we feel that one German song cycle is enough on any program unless it is a concert consisting entirely of lieder for lovers of that form.

Our personal favorites among the song groups were Poulenc's four "Airs Chantes" and the French folk song the soprano sang as one of her two encores. A French Canadian, she seemed more natural and completely at ease in these French selections.

Her fourth group was composed of seven "Hermit Songs" by Samuel Barber, sung in English. They were of wide variety, ranging from "Crucifixion" to "The Monk and His Cat," but understanding the words was somewhat hampererd by the singer's accent.

In any concert in which Robaline Meacham appears, it need hardly be added that she is more than an accompanist, and the music in this recital was of a level that made her skillful performance an important part of the total effect.

Six Marin Artists To Exhibit At Sale

Six Marin artists will be represented at the eighth Christmas Sale sponsored by the Gallery Shop Committee of the Oakland Museum Assn. at the ballroom of the Oakland Auditorium from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dec. 3, 4 and 5.

'Red Balloon' To Be Shown For Children

Four films, including the prizewinning "Red Balloon," will be shown Nov. 26 in the monthly film festival for children held at the Mill Valley Public Library at 10:30 a.m.

Other films included in the program are "Christmas Cracker," "Doughnuts for Homer Price" and "Flowering Desert."

Small cashew crops in both India and Eastern Africa, 42,000 tons less than last year, have led to substantially increased prices for the kernels and raw nuts.

The American bison or "buffalo" is the only representative of wild cattle in the New World. The bison came to the U.S. late, during the Ice Age, perhaps only a little while before men came. It is not a true buffaio, but has a close relative in the nearly extinct European bison or wisent.

Strike Averted In Radio, Television; Verbal Pact

NEW YORK (UPI) —The Amerian Federation of Radio and Television Artists (AFTRA) last night reached a tentative contract settlement with the four major television and radio networks, averting a threatened nationwide strike.

Virtual agreement was reported in separate talks between television networks and a motion picture union.

Negotiations on local issues were continuing between the union and individual stations in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Washington. AFTRA represents virtually every performer who appears before a microphone—newsmen, dancers, comedians, singers and many others.

A spokesman said that separate talks with the Screen Actors Guild, which represents performers who appear in filmed commercials, had produced agreement on most major points.

The networks involved are the Amerian Broadcasting Co., Columbia Systems, National Broadcasting Co., and Mutual Broadcasting System.

Shoplift Charged

A Tiburon man was arrested at the Corte Madera shopping center Saturday at 5:30 p.m. and charged with taking a shirt from Montgomery Ward and Co. in the center. Peter E. Ketchu, 27, of Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, was released from Marin County jail on $276 bail.

Even LBJ's Surgery Had Some Hazards

WASHINGTON (SS) — President Johnson has been shrugging off the seriousness of his two operations—the removal of a polyp from the throat, and repair of an incisional herina, also called a ventral hernia because it occurs in the front of the body.

But no surgery is without some hazard:

Once in a while a bowel obstruction develops after a ventral hernia operation, and death has occurred, in the cases of a few elderly persons—older than President Johnson—with a history of heart trouble. The president is 58.

Regarding the polyp, it is usually benign, but until the pathologists turn their powerful microscopes on the grape-like tissues, no one can be sure the growth is not concerous.

How could these conditions have been avoided in a man who tends to overweight (always a bad thing in an abdominal operation), and in one who speaks as continually as President Johnson does, a common precursor of throat polyps?

Science Service interviewed Dr. Donald R. J. Welsh, a Toronto, Canada, surgeon who has performed more than 900 operations for incisional hernias, and got these answers to specific questions:

Q. What weight is considered hazardous for the performance of either a preliminary abdominal operation or for the post-operative effects of a gallbladder operation?

A. I would say 190 pounds is not too bad, but 220 pounds (President Johnson has reportedly ranged from 200 to 215 since his last surgery) is a little overweight. From my reading of the reports, I judge that your President's physicians have been trying to get him to take off weight.

Q. Were the drains inserted near the abdominal incision related to the hernia as our press has reported?

A. It is our opinion that unless the drains are placed directly in the wound they should not be held responsible. In the President's case, we believe they were placed near the wound area after small stabs were made for their insertion.

Q. Is the same thing likely to happen again? I mean, is there a chance that another ventral hernia could form?

A. It doesn't sound like your President would have any trouble. Up here in Canada we have such a shortage of beds, however, that we advise patients to take off considerable weight while they are forced to delay the time of operation. Where we have recurrences they are usually due to excess weight.

Dr. Welsh's timely report in The Journal of Abdominal Surgery describes a series of 500 incisional hernia operations performed between 1945 and 1960.

Only two deaths have occured, he said, in the series of more than 900 incisional hernias and these were in elderly women with previous history of cardiac disease. Three patients developed bowel obstruction requiring another operation within one month of the surgery.

Prolonged follow-up has revealed 16 recurrences—approximately a two per cent recurrence rate and 10 of these have been repaired again and these second repairs have been satisfactory to date.

The anesthetic used by Dr. Welsh is usually fluothane, also called halothane, a nonflammable anesthetic especially recommended to prevent coughing and other after-effects.

Performing Arts Center On Agenda

Use of Mill Valley Golf clubhouse as a center for the performing arts is to be recommended by the arts board to the city council when it meets at 8 p.m. today in city hall. The plan envisions use of the building for musical, theatrical and film performances.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer will report on the failure Nov. 8 of the city's $500,000 sewer bond and $300,000 public safety building bond issues.

FDA Finds 'Pill' Doctor Unsuitable As Investigator

WASHINGTON (SS) — Dr. Robert A. Wilson, the Brooklyn doctor, who claims that birth control pills can prevent women from ever "suffering menopause," is "unsuitable" to test drugs in humans, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has ruled.

He views menopause as an estrogen-progesterone deficiency disease which can be prevented by supplying women proper amounts of the female hormones.

Dr. Wilson, who has been conducting tests for G. D. Searle and Co., a drug manufacturer in Chicago, is the author of "Feminine Forever" in which he also stated that oral contraceptive pills provide probable protection against breast and genital cancers thanks to keeping the women estrogen-rich.

Enovid, manufactured by Searle, has not been named specifically by Dr. Wilson in any of his writings, but he has recommended a suitable estrogen and an estrogenic progestogen in combination to prevent menopause and thus aging in women. Norethynodrel, an ingredient found in Enovid and in no other brand, is an estrogenic progestogen.

Searle received notification from FDA Commissioner James L. Goddard that test data submitted by Dr. Wilson will no longer be considered acceptable.

A spokesman for Searle said Dr. Wilson enjoys a private relationship to the company like that of any scientist whose work it sponsors. Dr. Wilson is a "recognized leader with much experience" in the field, the spokesman said, adding that the doctor's public statements are made on the basi of that experience and are not connected in any way with Searle.

FDA find Dr. Wilson unsuitable to conduct clinical investigations because his claims for birth control pills far exceed those the Administration has approved.

17 Hearing To Be Held Tonight

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. today at Olney Hall, College of Marin, on the controversial Route 17.

The State Division of Highways has proposed four routes, each with several variations. The state engineers were to hold a hearing on their proposals last Monday, but that was postponed until Dec. 8 at request of supervisors to allow them to hold a hearing first.

The Marin County Planning Commission, after two public hearings, recommended that the Greenbrae-Ross route and the eastern end of the Lucas Valley route be dropped from consideration. This recommendation has gone to supervisors and they could act on it at the end of tonight's session.

Try Famed Roman Restaurant, But Don't Order A Hamburger

And — naturally — a Marinite was a witness.

How the young man from the Bay Area and a wily Roman settled the matter of taste without bloodshed was described in a letter to the Independent-Journal by V. James Stragnola, San Rafael bail bond broker, now on a six-month European tour:

"They say that, if you are in Rome, you must go to Alfredo's to eat his world famous 'fettucine al doppio burro' (egg noodle with double butter sauce).

"This wonderful, grinning, gay little waiter — with beautiful mustachios that point upwards — has been serving this delectable, exquisite dish to tourists of the world for nigh unto 35 years. The restaurant walls are covered with kings, queens, heads of state and celebrities. Long, long ago, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks presented the waiter with a fork and spoon of solid gold. These are his badge of honor. He carries them in his breast pocket as he bounces from table to table. He insists on personally mixing and serving the fettucine.

"Last Sunday (Nov. 13), a young U.S. Navy ensign sits down at a table next to mine and orders a hamburger. The waiter is almost startled out of his starched white apron. He calls his captain.

"The captain explains in broken English that this is Alfredo's; the world famous fettucine is a must. Our young ensign says, 'No thank you. Just a hamburger.' All hell breaks loose.

"Alfdedo, himself, is called. In torrid Italian, Alfredo, captain and waiter appeal to the gods and to all witnesses that this cannot be. Both Alfredo and our Navy hero stand their ground.

"Finally, our ensign gets up to leave. 'No! No!' says Alfredo, 'We make bargain. You eat my fettucine as a compliment to me. I fix you a hamburger, the first that is ever fix at my place. O.K.?' Smiles, happiness all round.

"When things finally quieted down and we introduced each other, he turned out to be Joseph Peters fom Richmond. He had come up from Naples on a weekend pass. Young Joseph Peters almost licked the plate . . the fettucine plate, that is."

Board Review On Adoption Program Set

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will consider a recommendation to open up the adoption program, closed since June to cut foster home costs.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the civic center. The adoption discussion is slated for 11 a.m.

The temporary discontinuance of accepting referred children in June was made to keep down expenses in the boarding homes and institutions budget. It meant the number of children available for adoption in Marin dwindled while the number of parents applying for adoption grew.

Also on tomorrow' agenda is a recommended 10 per cent raise for three full time and one half time nurse in county employ. The move would add $2,060 to the payroll for the balance of this fiscal year.

Rent of additional office space in San Rafael for expansion of Community Mental Health Services, seeking assurance of federal payments for Marin's War on Poverty, and an alternate use of the damaged recreation center in Marin City will also be among the morning discussion topics.

Soon after 1:30 p.m., when supervisors reconvene, there will be a public hearing on on Draper Co.'s application for zoning to allow apartment development and single homes on 38 acres at McNear's Beach.

At 2 p.m. the board will hold public hearing on the development plan for the Dias Ranch, a 170-acre housing project west of Mill Valley.

At 3 p.m. the board will hold a public hearing on a proposed ordinance that would provide franchising of community television antenna services.

Two Injured In Related Car Accidents

A passenger was injured in a two-car crash on the Waldo Grade at 12:05 a.m. today, and the driver was hurt in a connected accident an hour later.

A car driven by Thomas Jefferson Dennis, 25, of San Francisco first sideswiped, then hit the rear of one driven by Joseph Allan Ryan, 50, also of San Francisco, as both were southbound near the Waldo Tunnel, the California Highway Patrol reported. The impact sent Ryan's car into the center divider guard rail.

Lora Luckett, 17, of San Francisco, a passenger with Dennis, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scalp cuts.

At 1:05 a.m., Dorothy Clorinda Glashaw, 49, of San Francisco applied brakes suddenly as she saw flares and lights where the previous accident was being cleared, the highway patrol said. Her car skidded into the roadside embankment. She was reported in good condition today in Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco, with head cuts.

The airlines are doing a booming business in transporting cut flowers, shrubbery, plants and ornamental greens around the country.

Demonstration Slated Against Executions

A big demonstration by land and sea is being planned at San Quentin to save the life of Ernest L. Jacobson, 36, who is doomed to die in the gas chamber on Dec. 6, according to Frederick L. Ullner of Santa Venetia.

Ullner has organized the Committee for Abolition of Capital Punishment, whose aim is to get a stay of execution from Governor Brown and legislation to abolish the death penalty under new Gov. Ronald Reagan next year.

"Unless a stay is granted, we're going to demonstrate at the gates of San Quentin from Dec. 3 on," said Ullner. "We're also planning demonstration by boats, about 200 yards offshore."

Ullner's daughter, Lynne, 15, is circulating petitions opposing the death penalty at Terra Linda High School, where she is a sophomore. Lynne said she plans to lead Students Against Capital Punishment in picketing the Federal Building in San Francisco Friday noon.

Ullner said a clemency hearing will be held in Sacramento on Nov. 29 for Jacobsen, 36, who is sentenced to die for the drowning of the 2-year-old daughter of his common-law wife. Ullner said he has received legal opinions which show that Governor Brown cannot commute the sentences of the doomed men but can only stay their executions.

"What we're shooting for now is a stay, pending state legisiation under the Reagan regime," he said.

Mother, Children Injured; Car Plunges Off Highway

The California Highway Patrol said Mrs. Mary Estudillo, 47, of 6 Venus Court was thrown from her foreign car when it careened off the highway to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks below. Her children, Sandra, 19, and Barbara, 12, remained in the vehicle.

Mrs. Estudillo's station wagon was northbound near the Greenbrae interchange about 11:40 a.m. when it hit a guard rail, bounced back onto the roadway, collided with a car driven by Dorothy Childress, 46, of 24 Dunfries Terrace, San Rafael, and went down the embankment, the highway patrol reported.

Mrs. Estudillo was in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital with face, scalp and leg cuts. Sandra was treated at the hospital for a fractured right ankle and a back sprain, and Barbara for a cut scalp and possible concussion. Both children were then transferred to Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco, where their condition was reported as good today.

Cutting Torch Causes Large Fire To Shed

A cutting torch set fire to a trail of gasoline Saturday to start a $5,000 fire in a Novato storage shed.

Gilbert Florky of 654 Plum Street, Novato, and Richard Olson of Mill Valley were working on cars in the shed on the old Dias ranch, owned by John Novak, east of Highway 101 and south of Lamont Avenue. Florky was using a cutting torch on one car. Olson disconnected the carburetor of another, and gasoline drained onto the floor, reported Novato Fire Chief George Cavallero.

The two men ran 100 yards, with the acetylene tanks exploding behind them, to turn in the fire alarm.

Film On Mural To Be Viewed

Corte Madera Town Council will see slides of an 8-by-8 foot mural painted for the town's 50th anniversary by Kenneth Potter today at 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher has proposed that the town buy the mural.

The council will hear a report on the town recreation programs planned for this fall, and will consider a request from the Local Agency Formation Commission for a map showing Corte Madera's ultimate boundaries.

McCarthy To Be Released Today

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, who underwent throat surgery last Friday, was scheduled to be released today from the University of California Hospital in San Francisco.

The senator's wife, Ursula, said her husband feels so well that he plans to go directly from the hospital to his San Rafael office. She said the operation was more complicated than expected ond took three hours for removal of a polyp.

"We were very relieved with the outcome," said Mrs. McCarthy. "The doctor was very pleased." The growth was not malignant.

Tiburon City Council Plans Closed Meeting

A closed session of the Tiburon City Council was announced today by Mayor John S. Hoffmire Jr. to "consider the appointment of a public officer to an existing vacancy." It will be at the City Hall at 3 p.m. tomorrow.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said Robert D. Singer has resigned from the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission because he is moving to New York, and the council will discuss an immediate appointment to replace him.

Bombs Don't Halt Medical Conference

WASHINGTON (SS) — The crockery-rattling blast of an exploding ammunition dump set off by Viet Cong terrorists is strange punctuation for a conference between doctors creating a future Vietnamese medical establishment.

But to Dr. Lawrence S. Lilienfield of Georgetown University and his Vietnamese counterpart, the nearby explosions and constant rumble of distant artillery fire were too commonplace to disturb them during recent Saigon conferences.

The American physiologist, acting for the Agency for International Development and the American Medical Association, is fresh back from Saigon where he was helping Dr. Tran Vy of the University of Saigon plan a teaching program on which the future of Vietnamese physiology might be built. He expects to be back in Saigon in February.

Continued dependence on the U.S. or, as was the case in the past, on France, falls short of grounds for an independent Vietnamese medical profession, he feels.

Viet Nam, Dr. Lilienfield reports, is desperately short of doctors to teach doctors, a need the AID-AMA program hopes to fill.

Dr. Vy is currently the entire faculty in physiology to Saigon University's 400 medical students.

The 400 or so medical students now at Saigon, Dr. Lilienfield reported in an interview with Science Service, can look forward to being snatched by the Army virtually as soon as they graduate—before they can become the highly trained teachers on whom the long haul depends.

Dr. Lilienfield, gentle-spoken, nearing 40, with hair approaching the pepper and salt stage, does not look like a pioneer. But he's the first of what he hopes will be a Saigon-bound stream of U.S. medical educators.

The present medical school in Saigon had its roots in the French colonial regime prior to 1954, he reports. Its professors were mainly trained in Paris, and the teaching has remained typically European — the lecture method, the two-month oral and written examination on what students can memorize of lectures without textbooks or questions. More modern instruction, in English, is now being planned.

A new medical school is ready for occupancy, with modern electronic equipment provided by the AID, but textbooks and English-speaking professors are both lacking, Dr. Lilienfield said.

Dr. Lilienfield is looking "far beyond the current war. It will take 10 to 15 year to prepare these young men and women to become teachers."

In addition, Dr. Lilienfield says he has the names and addresses of 59 Vietnamese medical students, hungry for correspondence with their counterparts in the U.S.

Ross Trustees To Have Closed Personnel Talks

Ross School District will meet ni closed session at 7:30 p.m. today for the announced purpose of "personnel evaluation."

The regular board meeting, open to the public, will follow at 8:15 p.m.

Most school boards hold "evaluation sessions" once or twice each year behind closed doors, under the premise that this is permissable as state law allows closed sessions to discuss employment and discharge. However, another state law which gives teachers "instant tenure" makes discharge of a teacher without public filing of charges.

In the open session, the trustees will take up the Ross music program, student body activities, Red Cross volunteers, school maintenance, legislative board representative, family life education, and how to approach teaching about alcohol, tobacco and drugs.

School Funds To Be Studied

The Tamalpais High School District board will consider applications for federal funds totaling $56,726.55 for compensatory education programs when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the district office.

The applications are for $26,690.97 for special reading classes and $30,035.58 for a mathematics laboratory program.

The board will consider annexation of the Corte Madera section of Redwood High School to Larkspur, and will hear reports on plans for the improvement of the Marin City High School site.

Nine teachers' applications for leaves of absence will be considered.

Dogs are expert taste testers. A recent study established that dogs could identify a particular flavor in commercially perpared dog foods with 97.8 per cent accuracy.

Dystrophy Drive Gets $250 Gift

The Sausalito Salvage Shop has contributed $250 to the annual fund raising drive now under way by the Marin County chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Assn.

The shop, operated by 45 volunteer women on Princess Street, has taken in $9,100 thus far this year. Its contribution to the dystrophy campaign is the latest of donations to some 45 charities in Marin this year.

Dystrophy campaign leaders called the gift "a great boost to the hundreds of volunteers who have worked so hard."

'A Drawback'

HARTFORD, Ky. (AP)—Dorothy Gentry asked one mother what position her son played on the Ohio County High School football team. "I'm not sure," the mother replied, "but I believe he's one of the drawbacks."

Commerce Aide Raps Research In Industry: Just Too Slow

WASHINGTON (SS) — Inventors, come out of your garrets, garages and back yard laboratories, and meet the best friend you've ever had.

The research czar of the Department of Commerce says that while the ordinary industrial process of research and development is very nice, it can take 10 or 20 years for one company's good idea to spread out to all the others.

Inventors, he says, not researchers, are the thing.

"There are 300 companies doing 90 per cent of the research and development in the U.S. and I can assure you that they do not have 90 per cent of the new ideas," said Dr. J. Herbert Hollomon, Assistant Commerce Secretary for science and technology.

Though the country spends more on this each year than the entire cost of the U.S. moon program, Dr. Hollomon noted that they "do not create anything in themselves, or solve any problems." Those, he said, are the jobs of invention, which simply means "putting what is already known to work."

He cited a Government study called Project Hindsight, which revealed that 95 per cent of recent technical advances studied came from scientific ideas that were already known before World War II. The useful results came not from basic research, which for years has been touted by the government almost as an end in itself, but from invention inspired by necessity, he said.

"There's so much to-do about how much research we're doing, how much science we're doing, but these other things are important too," he said.

Two special panels of the department have been studying federal laws related to invention, as well as ways to improve the "national climate for invention." Reports from both groups are expected soon.

1966 Momentos Sealed In Mine For The Future

ROSAMOND (UPI) — More than 1,500 mementos of life in 1966 have been sealed for posterity in a 300-foot long abandoned mine tunnel near this high desert community.

The tunnel turned time capsule was dedicated in the rain yesterday after the mementos were sealed behind 15 feet of solid concrete with a bronze plaque at the tunnel's entrance warning not to open before the year 2866 A.D.

The project was the brainstorm of Prof. Jack T. Tomlinson of San Francisco State College. Under the sponsorship of the Kern-Antelope Valley Historical Society, artifacts were collected for a year and stored in the glory hole of the old Tropico gold mine for their 900-year trip into the future.

At the ceremonies attended by many Kern County officials, Prof. Tomlinson invoked the curse of the Mojave Indians' rain god on anyone who disturbed the historic shaft before 2866.

The gold mine was offered as a site for the project by its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Settle.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Teachers Surprised By What 'Outsiders' Think Of Them

What do "outsiders" think of teachers?

This question was given me recently as subject for a talk before the San Rafael Teachers Assn.

WHILE PLEADING that (1) my long, close association with the schools disqualifies me as an "outsider," and (2) generalities are always dangerous, I listed for the teachers a half dozen beliefs about them that I suspect are widely held. Some of them proved surprises to my listeners.

1. "Outsiders" appreciate teachers much more than most teachers realize.

The very fact of parents' willingness to entrust their children to the instruction of people they know little or nothing about is in itself a great expression of confidence. No other group in our civilization, except doctors, is given such great trust by the public.

2. Almost everyone believes that teachers, as a group, are dedicated to their jobs. People expect this dedication. That is why they complain when a teacher is found lacking it.

3. Most people believe teachers are hypersensitive. They feel that any remark about any shortcomings of the schools is taken as a personal affront by teachers — a situation which makes intelligent discussion of school problems difficult.

4. Many people feel that the teachers in their schools take too little interest in the community. They think that teachers don't care about the community. Teachers "shut themselves off," they say.

5. A very common complaint is that "teachers look down on parents." Many parents say the teachers treat them as though they were children, assuming a superior attitude.

MOREOVER, many parents complain, teachers tend to act as though they alone understood the children. I propounded this proposition to the teachers: As a matter of simple logic and mathematics, if a mother has a child with her constantly from birth until the age of five, and after that for 17 or 18 hours a day for nine months of the year and all the time the other three months—who knows this child better, the mother or the teacher who has the child six hours a day for nine months and never again?

6. Most people think good teachers are underpaid.

This was one that surprised my listeners. But I believe it to be true. What the public cannot understand, I said, is why teachers, while insisting that their pay is too low, at the same time insist that their salaries be on a fixed scale which has no provision for paying the better teachers more money than the poorer ones.

Professional people, I told the audience of members of the avowedly professional CTA, think it is ridiculous for teachers to claim professional status and at the same time insist on fixed wage scales as though they were laborers or truck drivers or civil service paperpushers.

I SUGGESTED that people want the outstanding teachers to get much better pay, but they will not buy the premise that the only way to improve the schools is to raise the pay of everybody who teaches in them, be he good or bad.

I took the opportunity, while addressing this teacher group, to try to spike one widely held belief of teachers regarding "outsiders" which I think is erroneous.

Teachers often complain that they are regarded as "second class citizens" and lack status in the community.

I have never, I told them, encountered anyone who regards teachers as second class citizens —except some teachers themselves. The fact that some teachers think this, I suggested, may be tied in with the feeling by "outsiders" that teachers are hypersensitive. It is perhaps tied in also with the feeling by "outsiders" that teachers lack interest in the community.

DOUBTLESS there are readers of "The People's Schools" who would differ with me as to whether some of these opinions are held by a majority or even a sizable minority of "outsiders." Doubtless, also, there are many readers who have some ideas of their own about what the public thinks of teachers.

Maybe some kind of symposium on "what outsiders think of teachers" would be helpful all around. What do you believe "outsiders" think of teachers? If you'd like to contribute your opinions, address your letter to The People's Schools, care of this newspaper.

In the 35 states that maintain separate records on litter violations, a total of 9,488 arrests were reported in 1965, but in proportion to the crime, the number of arrests is negligible.

Childbirth Film Showing Slated

The birth of a child to a Marin couple will be shown on film at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Redwood High School's Little Theater by the Education for Childbirth Association of Marin.

The film was made during the summer by Dan De Wilde of Kent Woodlands, as his "masters thesis" for the Department of Communications and Film Making at Stanford University, where he is a graduate student.

In addition to depicting the actual birth, the film tells the couple's personal story in relation to the expected child and portrays their Mill Valley obstetrician's methods and attitude toward spontaneous birth.

ANIBAL MIRANDA

Latin Youth Captures Novato Coeds' Hearts

By THERON A. NEWELL

A tall, handsome boy with wavy black hair who comes from Paraguay is capturing the hearts of the girls at Novato High School.

However, Anibal (Andy) Miranda is a serious minded young man who came here to study in the United States and learn the ways of this country under the American Field Service exchange student program.

He left his home in Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay, to spend the year with the family of Lt. Col. (Ret.) Robert C. Beebe at 4 Farvue Road, Novato.

Young Miranda said that he thought boys matured earlier in his tropical home than here, and after hearing him discuss world problems, one cannot doubt his word.

Andy is an avid chess player and takes his studies very seriously, but he is no bookworm. He plays soccer, volleyball, basketball, and table tennis. He has not token up American football.

"Football is more a game of force; soccer is more of a game of technique," he said.

Andy is one of six children of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Aparicio Miranda. A younger sister, Elba, is a basketball star and may enter the international competition in Lima, Peru, this year.

The Paraguayan youth has some definite ideas about the United States.

"I think that the United States should stay in Viet Nam because they are protecting not only Viet Nam, but all of Southeast Asia from communism," he said.

He said he felt the United States had taken economic advantage of the Cubans before the Castro government.

Unlike other great nations that have dominated the world, the United States wants to dominate it culturally, he said. Other nations have dominated it politically or militarily.

He contrasted Americans, who are always on the go, with the people in his country.

"Every day we have a siesta and take a nap in the afternoon. Then we can stay up until late at night and not get tired," he said.

Americans are always driving themselves and so must have a vacation every year, he said.

"We do not need a vacation from our way of life," he observed.

In his American family, he has two older "sisters," Judy and Janet, both students at College of Marin; a "brother," Chuck, who is a freshman at Novato High School, and a young "sister," a third grade pupil at Lu Sutton School.

Special Meeting Set On Sign Ordinance

The Novato Planning Commission will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. today to discuss the proposed sign ordinance.

The ordinance will meet some opposition from Grant Avenue Merchants, who have circulated a petition opposing portions of it. The merchants want all existing signs to be kept, and no city registration on signs within a store.

At last, a sports car for grown-ups— the Mercedes-Benz 230SL

At $6262, the Mercedes-Benz 230SL ranks among the world's great sports cars. Motor magazine describes road-holding as "uncanny." Yet the 230SL doesn't thunder, rattle, ride like an ox-cart or look like a rocket ship. It's a civilized two-seater built for normal adults, not acrobats. Read how the 230SL delivers all the pleasures of sports car driving—and none of the privations.

MANY driving enthusiasts feel the urge to own a sports car—but don't like to suffer their usual hardships and handicaps. A solution is at hand: the Mercedes-Benz 230SL. "In place of colossal maximum speed and breathtaking acceleration, the magic of this car lies instead in its refinement, comfort and superb road behavior," reports Autocar.

You can have your cake and eat it, too. The 230SL is supremely livable. And it runs rings around much of its sports car competition.

"There must be a limit, but on a dry road we never found it"
—Motor road test

The 230SL vaults from zero to 60 mph in 10 seconds. It reaches its peak only at 125 mph. But its most startling trait is its leech-like roadability.

Even a quick inspection shows why. The car stands a mere yard and a half high. Yet it straddles the road with a track five feet wide. Tires seem to bulge out from the body sides. Note: These aren't ordinary tires, but radial-ply design, specifically tailored to the car's speed, weight and handling traits.

All four wheels are linked to a fully independent suspension system, first proved on a world-championship Mercedes-Benz racing machine. This skillful engineering has eliminated any trace of a harsh "sports car ride"—as Autocar discovered: "When being really hurtled along, the 230SL sits down on the road beautifully, sweeping over bumps and undulations with the minimum of vertical movement and no sensation at all of wheels pattering up and down." No bone-jarring jolts; this is a civilized sports car—and with a wheelbase of less than 8 feet, an agile one. The 230SL nips and darts through dense city traffic like a whippet in a herd of buffalo.

No frazzled nerves

On the open road, the 230SL replaces the raucous bellow of most sports cars with a soothing hum. You can actually converse with your passenger in normal tones.

The major reason: a 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine, with fuel injection replacing carburetors and hours of patient handwork to ensure running smoothness.

For example, pistons are machined to tolerances of .019 of a millimeter. Every engine is bench-tested for over an hour.

Superb stopping power

However vigorously you drive it, the 230SL cannot outrun its magnificent brakes.

Mercedes-Benz 230SL Roadster cockpit is designed for normal adults, not acrobats. Comfort is so complete that driver and passenger have separate heater and ventilation controls.

Up front are 9.9-inch disc brakes. Finned, 9.05-inch turbo-cooled drums act on the rear wheels. A gentle power assist transmits pedal pressure to these brakes—softly enough to avoid sudden lurching stops, strongly enough to deliver instant response.

A reassuring fact: Road & Track magazine has been testing all kinds of cars for almost 20 years. The 230SL holds the record for fast stopping times.

Strong and silent type

Many sports cars are intended as playthings—and built accordingly. The 230SL is meant to endure for years without showing its age.

Heavy gauge steel body panels are welded into a single, solid structure that can't rattle because it uses no nuts and bolts. After hand filing and buffing, this body is submerged in a 52-ton primer vat where every crevice gets a protective coating. After the primer coat is baked on, 24 pounds of permanent undercoating seals the underside. Engine, drive train and suspension are rubber cushioned to quell vibration. No wonder the car pounds over brutal surfaces without tremors, rattles or jolts.

In fact, the 230SL thrives on rough going. Competition driver Eugen Boehringer underscored the point. He slammed his 230SL over some of Europe's worst back roads in the Liége-Sofia-Liége Rally and he won.

Bring your wife

For example, your passenger enjoys more forward legroom than in a Rolls-Royce. Seats are firmly upholstered, contoured chairs—not skimpy "buckets." You are sealed against wind gusts and cold with roll-up side windows and one of the tightest-fitting convertible tops ever devised.

Dual heater and ventilation controls let you select whatever interior climate you want, while your passenger does the same.

The 230SL even quashes that ancient complaint about sports car trunk space. A carpeted alcove behind the seats holds large parcels or small children. The trunk carries 12 cubic feet of luggage.

Note: Power steering and a 4-speed, automatic transmission are two of the few extra-cost options offered for the 230SL. Autocar sums them up succinctly: "We have never tried a more successful power steering, and the automatic transmission is also among the best in our experience."

Three cars in one

You can choose from three 230SL models: the soft-top Roadster, at $6262*; the hardtop Coupe, at $6420*; and the Roadster/Coupe, which gives you both tops, at $6665*.

"The detachable hardtop is so beautifully engineered that it doesn't look as though it should come off at all," comments Motor.

Other Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $25,785 to $4,189*

Grand Mercedes 600	$25,785
300SE Coupe	11,916
250SE Convertible	10,004
250S Sedan	5,861
230S Sedan	5,018
230 Sedan	4,386
200 Diesel Sedan	4,418
200 Sedan	4,189

*West Coast port of entry, exclusive of options, state and local taxes if any.

A safe sports car

The 230SL's foremost safety feature is its incredible maneuverability. You can drive away from danger. But if trouble should occur, you are also well protected.

The car body itself is a patented safety feature. On violent impact, front and rear sections are designed to collapse to absorb shock. Inside, even the steering wheel hub is designed for safety. It is padded, not pointed. Lethal projections are absent. Door handles are recessed, control knobs are made of pliable materials, and the rearview mirror is spring mounted to snap off if struck.

The final proof

A small number of 230SL models are now available for immediate delivery. Come in soon and take a thorough test drive in the 230SL—the sports car for grown-ups.

Optional steel hardtop turns the 230SL into a snug, closed car.

Tiburon Board To Consider Rail's Permit For Parking

A permit for a parking lot around the old stucco building on Northwestern Pacific Railroad property between Main Street and the Ferry Slip will be considered by the Tiburon Board of Adjustments at its meeting at 8 p.m. today.

Matthew B. Weinberg, acting for Michel Y. Demaurex, has applied for the permit. The property is in a planned commercial zone.

Lucy Bridge's development plan for a townhouse on Linda Vista Avenue also is to come before the board for review of changes made since the original presentation.

An application by Alfred Casella for a permit to keep two horses on Round Hill has been put on the agenda again. At a previous meeting the board took no action as Casella was not represented.

Bats Could Aid Research Of The Heart

LONDON (SS) — A new substance derived from the saliva of vampire bats may soon play an important part in saving human life.

The substance, given the name of desmoknase, has been found to dissolve blood clots which cause heart attacks.

It was discovered by Dr. Christine Hawkey and her research team working for the Nuffield Institute of Comparative Medicine at the London Zoo. They have been studying bats for more than a year.

Vampire bats are not normally found in Britain. Those used in the Institute's experiments were flown from South America and more are on the way.

"Vampire bats live entirely on the blood of animals and birds," Dr. Hawkey said. "They will even attack human beings, given the chance. But strictly speaking they are not bloodsuckers. What they do is puncture the skin of their prey and lap up the blood as it drips from the wound."

Her experiments were started because it was realized that the bats must have some natural means of preventing blood from clotting while they fed. An anti-clotting substance was in fact discovered in their saliva but a more important find was of desmoknase that could dissolve clots that had already formed.

Two Hurt When They're Thrown From Their Car

Two Marin men were injured when they were thrown from their car along Highway 101 at the Richardson Avenue ramp in San Francisco at 1:10 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers reported that a car driven by Klaus H. P. Steinbach, 31, of 258 Green Street, Homestead Valley, spun on wet pavement into a concrete wall.

Steinbach, who suffered a concussion and cuts of the elbow, scalp and neck, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

His passenger, Theodore T. H. Steinbach, 28, of 15 Plymouth Avenue, Mill Valley, who suffered scalp cuts and a possible concussion, was also reported in fair condition at the same hospital.

Clock To Have Its Own Seat

LONDAN (UPI) — When TWA Flight 709 leaves Wednesday for Washington, one of the first class seats will be occupied by a clock.

Full passenger fare was paid and a ticket issued to the U.S. government. The clock, en route home from South Africa, keeps time to within one-millionth of a second. It measures time in America's space program.

To keep it safe and running smoothly, two U.S. navy men will travel with the clock. Ticket cost for the three seats: $4,760.

Tape Machines, TV Set Reported Stolen

Thurman Barnes Jr. of 727 Drake Avenue, Marin City, reported to the sheriff's office Saturday that two tape recorders, speakers and a television set, with a total value of more than $700, were taken from his apartment between 8:30 p.m. Friday and 3:15 a.m. Saturday.

Trio Injured In Head-On Auto Wreck

Three persons were injured in a head-on auto collision on Tennessee Valley Road, north of Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, at 12:20 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said a northbound car driven by Christine K. Erickson Cahill, 23, of 138 Buchanan Drive, Sausalito, crossed the center line and collided with a southbound car driven by Thomas H. Miller, 19, of 503 Pineo Avenue, Tamalpais Valley.

Miller, 20, suffered cuts of the nose and forehead. He was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

His passenger, Louise K. Gee, 16, of San Francisco, suffered cuts of the face and neck, multiple bruises and a concussion. She was in fair condition today in the same hospital.

Marjorie J. Robinson, 42, of Vallejo, a passenger in the Cahill car, suffered minor scrapes. She told officers she would be treated by her own doctor.

King-Size Snoozers

NEW YORK (UPI) —A survey of 136 persons who slumber in king size beds indicates that both the quantity and quality of snoozing improve when one switches to the larger bed.

Bus Causes Delay; Lodges Against Tree

Spencer Avenue in Sausalito was blocked temporarily yesterday at about 7 p.m. when a chartered Greyhound bus jammed into a tree at 54 Spencer Avenue.

The bus was coming down the steep "S" curve when it lodged against a large acacia tree. A tow truck freed the bus.

Hub Rec Commissioners Eye Gallinas Park Fund

The $10,000 donation of the Marin County Board of Supervisors to the Gallinas Community Services District is on the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission agenda for 7:45 p.m. today at City Hall.

A. J. Snyder Jr., director of parks and recreation for San Anselmo, said: "We are also looking for funds to develop our parks. If by providing Gallinas with $10,000 the supervisors are setting this kind of precedent, our department will also submit a request for funds. It's on the agenda so the commissioners can see what they want to do about it."

The commission will select a planning firm for the Sorich Ranch park development, and will discuss several sources of federal funds for parks.

The city ordinance establishing the park and recreation commission, which Snyder said is outdated, will be reviewed for possible revision.

Nation Gets Wheels

BRUSSELS (UPI) —Belgium now has one automobile for every six inhabitants, latest statistics show. There are 1,633,890 cars in the nation, including a record number of 230,000 bought in 1965.

Concern Shown With Success Of Neo-Nazis

MUNICH (UPI) —West German leaders expressed mounting concern today over the new election success of the Neo-Nazi National Democratic Party (NDP) and avowed to overcome the popular discontent that has won it representation in two state legislatures.

Drawing strong support in a region that was the springboard of Adolf Hitler's rise to power, the NDP polled 7.4 per cent of the vote in elections yesterday for the Bavarian state legislature (landtag).

A 12.2 per cent showing in the rural central Franconia—in and around the city of Nuernberg—was instrumental in winning 15 of the 204 landtag seats for the NDP under Bavarias' system of proportional representation.

After winning only two per cent of the vote in federal parliamentary elections in September 1965, the NDP took 7.9 per cent of the vote two weeks ago in elections in Hesse state and won eight of 96 seats in the landtag there.

ANTHONY M. MEKISICH
To far-off Nepal

Marin Youth To Nepal For Peace Corps

Anthony M. Mekisich of San Rafael has arrived in the kingdom of Nepal to spend two years as a Peace Corps volunteer teaching clan leaders in representative government.

The 22-year-old graduate of Stanford University is the first Caucasian to live in Parasi, a village of 1,500 persons near the Indian border. He is assisting in the king's Panchayat (Democratic Village Council) development.

Nepal, in the Himalaya Mountains between India and Tibet, has nearly 10 million inhabitants, communication and transportation are limited, and distances are measured by the number of days it takes to walk from village to village.

Nepal is best known for Mount Everest, which sits on its border with Tibet, and for the Gurkhas, famous for their bravery in the British Army.

Before leaving Honolulu last month, Mekisich had 12 weeks of training at the University of Hawaii Peace Corps training site near Hilo.

A graduate of San Rafael High School in 1962, he received his B.A. from Stanford in June. He spent his junior year at the Stanford campus in Tours, France.

Six Approved For On Job Local Work

The Labor Department has approved on-the-job training for six unemployed workers in San Rafael firms with the program financed under the Manpower Development and Training Act.

Trainees will be paid a wage by their employers while they learn. The funds go to the firm as reimbursement for the cost of training.

Carlson's Moving and Storage will hire two men and train them as movers for 26 weeks using $1,060 in federal funds.

J and J Appliance will train one man for 26 weeks in household appliance repair with $650 in federal funds.

Triple S Auto Service Centers Inc., will train one apprentice-entry automotive mechanic with $650 in funds, and Locke Brothers' Garage gets two trainees for 26 weeks as apprentice-entry auto mechanic and body and fender repairman, for $1,300.

Kentucky Payroll Up

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky expects to show a record high $10 million monthly state government payroll and some 25,000 state employes by fall.

Architect's Home

Add one talented architect to an already attractive 3-bedroom Eichler and let it mellow — the result is quite pleasing. He and his family have obviously been fond of this home because it reflects their care and desire for improvement. Alas, the family's needs now exceed the size of the house — but how fortunate for whoever may be seeking a truly outstanding 3-bedroom Eichler. It is realistically priced to sell in this buyers market by a seller who now owns one too many houses. It's a fine buy. See it today.

Poverty Funds Sick, Says King

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (UPI) — Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said last night so little money has been allocated for the war on poverty, "It is little more than a skirmish."

The Nobel Prize winning civil rights leader compared the costs of major programs of the Johnson administration and told his Wesleyan University audience:

"If a nation can spend $800 a second to fight the war in Viet Nam, more than $20 billion to place a man on the moon, this nation can afford to spend billions to put God's children on their own two feet right here on Earth."

Fourteen institutes of sociology, including those in the U.S. and Russia, are taking part in a study to see exactly how people spend their time on a working day.

Lunar's Photos Continue Good

PASADENA (UPI) — America's photographic Lunar Orbiter 2 continued today to return high quality pictures of possible Apollo landings sites on the moon.

"The pictures are really good, consistently high in quality," said a spokesman at California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

The 850-pound vehicle will continue snapping pictures until Nov. 25, then will read out, or send back, all the pictures it has taken while whirling around the moon.

Something's Wrong

LONDON (UPI) — The best laid plans of "Operation Match"—an effort to pair couples by computer—went slightly awry. Fifteen sets of brothers and sisters were matched as ideal mates.

Church Boycott, Unless Doggie Can't Join In

HALBERTON, England (AP) — A 76-year-old widow who takes her dog to church every Sunday said today if the dog is prevented from taking Communion with her she will stop going to church.

"My little dog Pip means everything to me," said Florence Cox. "She's all I've got. When I take Communion I give her a bit of the wafer and a little wine on my finger.

"No one has ever said this is wrong, and I see no harm in it. But if they stop me I shall stop attending church."

The vicar, Rev. Arthur Jones of St. Andrew's church said: "I don't go along with passing consecrated wafers or wine to a dog, and I do not think anyone else would."

One who does not approve is the vicar's superior, the Bishop of Exeter, Dr. Robert Mortimer.

"I'm very opposed to this," said the bishop. "I shall speak to the vicar about it."

Commenting, the London Sun said: "Whatever theological arguments are put forward about the place of dogs in church, Mrs. Cox can quote at least one saint in her evidence.

"St. Bernard wrote in the 12th century: 'Who loves me will love my dog'."

Power Mower Taken

Roy R. Carbone, president of the Gallinas Village Little League, reported to the sheriff's office Friday that someone broke into the equipment shed at O'Connor Park, adjacent to the Civic Center, and took a power mower, valued at $300 to $400. There also was vandalism, he reported.

Four Southeastern Teams Grab Major Bowl Bids

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Georgia Tech, unbeaten in nine games, and ranked fifth nationally, accepted an invitation to meet Florida with an 8-1 record, in the Orange Bowl at Miami the night of Jan. 2.

Georgia, 8-1, was chosen for the Cotton Bowl Dec. 31 at Dallas against the Southfest Conference representative—Southern Methodist if the Mustangs defeat TCU this Saturday.

Tennessee, 6-3, accepted a bid to the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 31, and will play Syracuse, which accepted an invitation yesterday after finishing with an 8-2 record.

The University of Miami accepted a bid to play in the Liberty Bowl game at Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 10, the first of the major college bowls. No opponent has been selected.

The picture for the two other major bowls—Rose and Sugar—also has cleared.

Purdue, 8-2, has been tapped by the Big Ten for the Rose Bowl at Pasadena Jan. 2. The Sugar Bowl on Jan. 2 will match two unbeatens—Alabama and Nebraska.

The University of Mississippi accepted an invitation to play in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, on Dec. 17. The opponent will be named later and could be one of three Southwest Conference members, Arkansas, Texas or SMU. Oklahoma and Colorado also are being considered, a bowl official said.

Mississippi has a 7-2 record with one game remaining Saturday against Mississippi State. The Rebels have lost to Alabama and Georgia.

49ers Blow Lead, Succumb To Eagles, 35 To 34

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

49ers Hopes Go Down The Drain So It's 'Wait Until Next Year'

NEXT YEAR—That really wasn't rain yesterday. San Francisco pro football fans' bubble burst for the 21st consecutive year so those were real tears falling.

Hunger is a big word in pro sports. The hungry athletes survive; the content fall. The 49ers have never been hungry enough and once again displayed this shortcoming in the mud of Kezar Stadium yesterday by blowing a 13-point lead to a mediocre Philadelphia Eagls club and losing 34 to 35.

And so we must resort to our annual battle cry of "Wait 'til next year" because the 49ers haven't got a prayer to overhaul Green Bay.

ONE GLIMMER of hope remains that the Prospectors can rally for second place and a berth in the Runner-Up Bowl in Miami, but the way they threw away a vital game yesterday leads us to believe they won't overhaul Baltimore, either. However, the Dec. 18 Baltimore at San Francisco game could decide that issue.

Perhaps someone should organize a Third Place Bowl. Never give up hope, gang.

THE 49ER collapse in the fourth quarter yesterday was so frustrating that I noticed more than the usual number of post-game inebriates staggering out of Kezar. When the home team wins, the boozers take it easy. But when they lose—chug-a-lug.

BUT DRUNK or sober, the 49er fans are among the NFL's best dressed. Even though yesterday was only the fourth time it rained for a home game in 21 years, the 31,933 customers were prepared for it. Some of the smartest rain-gear was on display, not to mention colorful umbrellas, Marine Corps panchos and just plain plastic wraps that made a lot of Joe Fans look like loaves of bread. I spotted two groups of fans completely enveloped in huge pieces of plastic. They were the ones with the blue complexions.

THINGS STARTED going badly for the 49ers in the first half. The phone system between their bench and the scouts in the press box went out of commission and public address announcer Dave Scofield had to issue a call for repairmen. Things like that are supposed to happen to the VISITING team.

Also, on a couple of occasions the amplifier for the 49er band conked out, but I think someone could have pulled the plug.

There was the makings of an interesting fistfight between Bob Brown of the Eagles and our Elbert Kimbrough. Brown stands 6-8 and weighs 290; Kimbrough was dwarfed at 5-11, 194. Although Brown made menacing gestures at Elbert, the refs managed to keep him away. Thank goodness.

JOHN BRODIE didn't have one of his better days, although he came within inches of again pulling this one out of the fire—or mud. Two passes deep into Eagle territory in the last couple of minutes barely missed. Had they clicked, Tommy Davis would have had an easy field goal, instead of the 42-yard boot he missed.

But that's the way the ball bounces. Our pain was mainly in the rain.

But wait 'til next year!

SHTICKLES SHLIDES in the SLUSH — Monty Stickles, the 49er end who is always in the thick of things, really got in it this time as he slides on his back in the wet grass of Kezar Stadium yesterday while trying to catch a John Brodie pass. The 49ers slid around a bit too, as they blew a 20-7 lead and lost to the Philadelphia Eagles, 35-34. (AP Wirephoto)

Matson Returns To Haunt S.F.

Fifteen years ago Ollie Matson starred in Kezar Stadium for the undefeated Dons of the University of San Francisco coached by Joe Kuharich.

Now in the twilight of a professional football career, the 36-year-old Matson provided what could be a final reminder of his prowess for San Francisco fans when he caught a fourth quarter pass yesterday which brought the Philadelphia Eagles a 35-34 comeback victory over the 49ers at Kezar.

"We shook 'em up, didn't we," exclaimed Kuharich who now coaches the Eagles and had used his ex-college ace almost exclusively on punt and kickoff return teams this season.

In the 10 league games until yesterday, Ollie had carried only 9 times for 21 yards and caught just one pass.

Then in the second period, starter Timmy Brown was Wilcox and Matson took over kayoed by 49er linebacker Dave for the rest of the game with the Eagles trailing 20-7.

He provided the big play on the first scoring drive of the second half with a 28-yard run starting an advance of 93 capped by a 15-yard pass from King Hill to Pete Retzlaff.

Still it was San Francisco 34 and the Eagles 21 going into the final stanza on a rainy afternoon. Then Jim Nettles picked off a John Brodie pass and ran 34 yards to score.

Next Dave Kopay fumbled and Randy Belsler recovered at the 49er 48. Ten plays later, Matson made a great leaping catch of Hill's pass from the four. Sam Baker booted the conversion and the Eagles had their sixth victory, the 49ers their fourth loss.

Matson rushed for 40 yards in six carries all told, but his 28-yard gainer was termed the turning point.

"We were stumbling until that play," said Kuharich. "That gave us impetus."

Said 49er coach Jack Christiansen, "I felt we gave the game away with our fumbles and interceptions."

San Francisco fumbled five times and lost the ball twice. Twice the Eagles picked off 49er passes.

Quarterback John Brodie hit 22 of 40 passes for 245 yards, two going for touchdowns. Fullback Ken Willard was on the receiving end of a play good for nine yards and a score. He smashed in for another and all told gained 124 yards on 19 carries.

Statistically, the 49ers had the advantage on the muddy Kezar field. They had 24 first downs to 15 and gained 404 yards to 289.

Yet King Hill, who could hit but 3 of 11 pass attempts for 28 yards in the first half, wound up with 15 of 30 overall and three touchdowns — two to Retzlaff and the payoff to Matson.

The Eagles gave game balls to Ollie and defensive tackle Floyd Peters—who did his collegiate playing at San Francisco State.

The 49ers have a short time for preparation this week as they play the Lions in a Thanksgiving Day game at Detroit. When they met in San Francisco four weeks ago, the 49ers edged the Lions 27-24.

State Swimmers Capture Honors

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two Californians were named as world swimmers of 1966 Thursday by the editors of swimming world magazine.

Mike Burton, a 19-year-old sophomore at UCLA who hails from Sacramento, and pretty Claudia Kolb, a 16-year-old high school junior from Santa Clara, were honored as the outstanding swimmers of the season.

Burton broke the world record in the 1500-meter freestyle this year, surpassing the old mark held by Steve Krause by 17 seconds. His time was 16:41.6.

The 5-9, 155-pounder also set an American record in the 1650-yard freestyle at the National AAU indoor championships with a time of 16:27.3.

Miss Kolb, an all-round performer who is rated a contender in almost every event for a gold medal in the 1968 Olympics, brought the 200-meter individual medley mark down to 2:27.8 during the year.

PRESSURE-PACKED HOUSTON GOLF

Palmer's $21,000 Putt

By MURRAY ROSE

HOUSTON (AP)— When the people root for a millionaire over an average guy, then the money bags man must be something special.

Arnie Palmer is something speial.

The personable, usually smiling golf pro had Arnie's Army rooting for him to win the $110,000 Houston Champions International Golf Tournament Sunday and he obliged by sinking a pressure-packed 12-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the 18th hole to win by a stroke over Gardner Dickinson Jr.

An estimated crowd of 30,000 swarmed over the beautiful grounds of the immaculately groomed 7,118-yard par 36-35 layout of the Champions Golf Club and most of the spectators tried to follow Palmer on a perfect, summery day.

The 37-year-old son of a golf pro from Latrobe, Pa., has had his army since 1960 when he scored eight victories including triumphs in the Masters and the U.S. Open.

When his putting is on the beam, Palmer is virtually unbeatable. His putting was on the beam for the final, dramatic round of the Houston tourney, last of the big money individual competition of the year.

NEEDED PAR

Palmer was sitting in the press room after his final round of 34-35—69 for 275, nine strokes under par, when Dickinson, a hungry-looking, 5-foot-11, 130-pounder who hadn't won a regular pro tournament since 1962, strode to the 18th needing a par 4 to tie Palmer and force a sudden death playoff.

Dickinson, a 39-year-old Alabama native playing out of Lost Tree Village, Fla., got off a good drive on the 428-yard hole. He flubbed his second shot, however, sending it to the right.

He chipped weakly and was short of the green on his third. Then he chipped boldly from about 30 feet out. The ball slid about three inches past the hole.

"Whew," exclaimed Palmer, "that was close. A real good try."

The difference was $8,000 maybe not too much for Palmer, who grosses more than a million a year with his various enterprises and has his own jet plane. It was a big differene to Dickinson, who had collected $39,230 this year without a victory, and added $13,000 for second.

Dickinson, the co-leader at the halfway mark and leader by one stroke over Palmer after three rounds, finished with an even par 36-35—71 for 276, eight under par.

MONEY CHAMP

Billy Casper, winner of the U.S. Open and the PGA's Player of the Year, clinched the official money winnings title for the first time in an anti-climax. He and Jack Nicklaus each finished with even par 284s, Casper with a final 72 and Nicklaus with a 74, good for a nine-way tie for 19th place. Each won $1,197.

This Casper, who plays out of Peacock Gap, Calif., dethroned Nicklaus, money champion the last two years, with $121,944 to big Jack's $111,148. Palmer, winner in 1962 and 1963, was third with $110,467.

George Archer, a towering, three-year pro from Gilroy, Calif., was third with 277 on his final round 68. Lionel Hebert, with a brilliant, final 35-31—66, and former U.S. champion Julius Boros, on a 37-32—69, tied for fourth with 278 each. Doug Sanders had a final 34-36—70 for 279 and sixth.

In the final race of the series, Wosser came from last place to fifth. Wosser, a member of the San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere, won last year's championship when it was held on San Francisco Bay.

Larry Grinnell of Mill Valley, also a member of the San Francisco Y.C., finished the six-race series in sixth place after ending the final two heats in fourth and sixth places. He had a total of 47 points.

Colts Name New General Manager

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League named former linebacker Joe Campanella as general manager today replacing Don Kellett, who has held the post since 1953.

Kellett, who took over the club 14 years ago and piloted it to championships in 1958 and 1959, will retire to Florida where he has just built a home.

Campanella, former Ohio State tackle, joined the Colts as a linebacker in 1953 and was with the club through the 1957 season. Since then, he has been in the restaurant business in Baltimore with two other Colt players — defensive lineman Gino Marchetti, who came out of retirement last week to rejoin the NFL team, and Alan Ameche.

No salary terms or length of contract were announced for Campanella, who has been filling in this season as an announcer for NFL games broadcast by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Lions Jolt Colts; Packers Top Bears, Lead League

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Last month, Johnny Unitas was just another quarterback to Garo Yepremian, the Cypriot Lion.

Yesterday, Unitas was just another quarterback to Yepremian's Detroit playmates.

Before the clubs' first meeting, Yepremian was asked if he'd ever heard of Unitas. "He's a quarterback," the little newcomer said. "I hear about him on television. Whose quarterback is he?"

Unitas then fired four touchdown passes, leading the Colts to a 45-14 romp over Detroit.

It was a different story yesterday, the Lion defenders blanking Baltimore until sub quarterback Cary Cuozzo replaced Unitas in the final period and hit John Mackey with a 64-yard TD pass. Unitas connected on only 9 of 19 pass attempts for a total of 93 yards.

Yepremian meanwhile kicked field goals of 17 and 21 yards, Pat Studstill grabbed a 9-yard scoring pass from Karl Sweetan and Bobby Felts plunged a yard for another Detroit touchdown.

The loss, coupled with Green Bay's 13-6 victory over Chicago, dropped the Colts one game behind the Packers in the league's Western Division title race.

Dallas trimmed Pittsburgh 20-7 and tied idle St. Louis for the Eastern Division lead; Cleveland remained in the Eastern race by beating Washington 14-3; Atlanta drubbed New York 27-16 for its first NFL victory; Philadelphia nipped San Francisco 35-34 and Los Angeles downed Minnesota 21-6 in other games.

In the American Football League, New York topped Miami 30-13; Oakland defeated Denver 17-3; Buffalo mauled Houston 42-20 and Boston and Kansas City played to a 27-27 tie.

Detroit's Studstill, the NFL's leading receiver, set a club record with his 49-yard catch. The swift flanker caught four passes in all for 74 yards, boosting his career yardage total to 1,113 and eclipsing the Detroit record of 1,086 held by Terry Barr.

Sweetan, a rookie who took over the Lions' quarterback job when Milt Plum was sidelined with a knee injury last month, hit on 16 of 32 passes for 152 yards.

Zeke Bratkowski, filling in for injured Bart Starr, fired two touchdown passes to Carroll Dale, leading Green Bay past the Bears. Bratkowski and Dale connected on a climactic 33-yard scoring play after Chicago's Roger Leclerc missed the extra point attempt following Gale Sayers' two-yard touchdown dive.

Don Meredith ran for one touchdown and passed 38 yards to Bob Hayes for another and Danny Villaneuva kicked two field goals as Dallas thwarted the Steelers' bid for a third straight upset.

Leroy Kelly capped the Browns' victory with a 56-yard touchdown bolt up the middle after Frank Ryan had sent them ahead with a five-yard TD pitch to Ernie Green.

Bruce Bossett kicked four field goals, Roosevelt Grier threw Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton for a safety and Billy Truax recovered teammate Roman Gabriel's fumble in the end zone for the game's only touchdown as the Rams outfought the Vikings.

HANLEY

Joe Kuharich quite understandably permitted himself a bit of nostalgic reminiscing about his youthful coaching days at University of San Francisco when he revisited Kezar Stadium with the Philadelphia Eagles.

"Those were wonderful days," said Kuharich, now coach and general manager of the Eagles, "but I'd be less than honest if I didn't admit that pro football holds more interest for me."

KUHARICH CITED a number of reasons why the pro game stimulates him more than college football. He mentioned, among other things, the distribution of great talent and balance in the National Football League. And several times he referred to efficiency of the pros.

"However, you can't expect constant efficiency from Sunday to Sunday," he said. "The pro game now has come down to a matter of mistakes. Upsets really aren't upsets. They're a matter of mistakes." A case in point was yesterday's 35-34 win over the 49ers.

IT IS DIFFICULT to find fault with that in a practical sense but Kuharich, as boss of the Eagles, should "expect constant efficiency" every Sunday from his team. It doesn't mean he is going to get it but he should "expect" an efficient performance every Sunday.

That is precisely what Paul Brown expected of the Cleveland Browns who were so efficient at their jobs during the days of the old All-American Conference that it actually became monotonous watching them win one title after another.

BROWN WAS NOT a tolerant man about mistakes. He wasn't popular with his players but he got results NFL cynics scoffed at his 47-4-3 record, plus four championships, in the AAC. "Wait," they said, "until the Browns face some real instead of Mickey Mouse competition."

The cynics didn't have to wait too long. The AAC folded after four seasons. In 1950 the Browns joined the NFL. From 1950-55, the Browns won six straight NFL Eastern Division titles with a 58-13-1 record. They won four NFL championship games in those six years, losing only to the Rams in 1951 and the Lions in 1952.

BROWN AS COACH of the Browns, expected efficiency every Sunday from them. As general manager of the Browns, he could demand it, and did.

KUHARICH NOW enjoys the same autonomy of a coach-general manager but he had better change his thinking about not expecting efficiency each Sunday from the Eagles if he intends to make them champs. Players who get the idea mistakes will be tolerated are prone to get careless.

Andretti Captures 500-Miler

Andretti, finishing more than a lap ahead of runner-up Al Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., pocketed $8,709 with his eighth first-place finish this season.

The Nazareth, Pa., driver was challenged for the lead only by Jones since winning the pole post position with a track record qualifying speed of 122.16 miles an hour. It was the first time a driver from the pole position had ever won a championship event at Phoenix International.

Jones slipped by Andretti on the 85th lap and led until the 132nd when Andretti resumed the lead. A half-lap later, Jones spun his car against the retaining wall when its engine blew, cutting the brake line. He was not injured.

Jim McElreath, Arlington, Tex., finished third followed in order by Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., and Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex.

Jones finished 10th. Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Airz., was in fourth position when his car sputtered on the 137th lap, forcing him out. He settled for 11th place.

Seals Bounce Back To Cop Second Place

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Second place in the Western Hockey League belongs to the California Seals, at least until Tuesday night.

Bouncing back from a defeat Saturday night at the hands of the Los Angeles Blades, the Seals whipped the Blades last night, 6-3, to move past Victoria and Vancouver into second.

Raiders Gain On Leaders In AFL

The Raiders' 17-3 win yesterbrought them to within a game and a half of the league's Western Division lead. It was Oakland's sixth win in its last seven games. On top of the Western Division is Kansas City, which tied 27-27 with Boston.

Leading Oakland to its victry was Tom Flores, whose long passes set up then accounted for two second-quarter touchdowns.

The first score came on an 18-yard pass from Flores to Art Powell, and the second on a two-yard heave from Flores to Larry Todd. Oakland got its final three points on Mike Eischeid's field goal from the 12.

The Chiefs are now 8-2-1 and they and Oakland have only three games to play.

Warriors Go For Seventh Straight Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors seek a seventh straight win tonight as they face the St. Louis Hawks in ational Basketball Assn. competition.

The Warriors came here from Los Angeles where they trounced the Lakers 144-109 Saturday night and ran their league record to 11-6.

Assisting Barry was Nate Thurmond, scoring 24, and Jimmy King who added 21. The trio broke the game open in the third period with a combined run of 41 points.

Elgin Baylor, playing his first game for Los Angeles in three weeks, scored 30 and Jerry West sank 17.

Marin Runners Eye Title

Marin County Athletic League, straight off its best showing ever at the North Coast Division III Cross-Country meet at St. Helena, will take a strong aggregation to the North Coast Section finals at Pleasant Hills tomorrow.

Deep and balanced Redwood will send its undefeated MCAL and Division III team champ to the meet and has to be regarded as a favorite while Terra Linda, which finished second to the Giants last week, will feature Bob Bunnel, the MCAL and Division III individual champ.

Bunnel tore up a muddy, slow 2.2-mile course at Napa Friday in a torrid 10:96 to take the individual title and rates a strong contender for the first place.

Redwood and Terra Linda, along with Vallejo and Hogan of Vallejo were the Division III survivors, but freshman-sophomore contenders are almost all MCAL.

Tam won the frosh-soph Division III meet, followed by Redwood and Drake.

Ara Defends Freeze; 'We're Still No. 1'

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Coach Ara Parseghian of top-ranked Notre Dame, lashing at the wide-spread criticism for not making what he called "a stupid gamble" against No. 2 Michigan States, said today his fighting Irish still rated the No. 1 college football team in his book.

Charges of being faint-hearted and running out the clock to preserve a come-from-behind 10-10 tie at Michigan State Saturday drew plenty of sparks from the volatile Irish coach.

"Everybody is making a federal case out of the last-minute of the game when we closed with six straight running plays in our own territory," said Parseghian.

"Our whole game plan, which certainly was hit hard by key injuries, was not to open up until we had good field position.

"At the end if we had moved to their 45 or so we might have gone to the air. But we weren't going to gamble against percentages and lose on an interception and possible field goal.

"We didn't achieve the success we have enjoyed this season by making stupid mistakes. If I had Saturday's game to do all over, I still wouldn't throw the ball until I had field position."

Parseghian had a lot more to say against criticism of his game-ending freeze for the disappointing 10-10 tie. He asserted:

"Nobody has said anything about the Michigan State missing a 13-10 defeat by a margin of three feet or less in the last five minutes. Our Joe Azzaro's missed field goal by that slim margin came after Michigan State gambled with a pass from its own 20 and we intercepted.

"All these experts who said we said we should have thrown the bomb as the clock ran out, forget we didn't hit the bomb for 59 minutes before.

"They forget that Michigan State ran out the clock deep in its own territory at the end of the first half, even though the Spartans earlier got their one touchdown after a 42-yard pass to Gene Washington.

"And they forget any interception against us at the close could have given Dick Kenney a field goal shot within the 50. Kenney kicked one 47 yards which gave Michigan State its 10-0 lead. Last week, he had a 57-yarder just miss.

"Just sum up the factors in this great game. We played mainly without three of our best offensive men, halfback Nick Eddy, quarterback Terry Hanratty and center George Goeddeke.

"We came back from a 10-0 deficit on sheer courage, great defensive play and a tremendous performance by such sophomores as quarterback Coley O'Brien and center Tim Monty, a couple of kids weighing 173 and 198 pounds who never even expected to get off the bench against this mighty Michigan State team.

"If Kenney kicked us into a 13-10 defeat, then the big cry would have been 'why the hell did you blow the game on these courageous kids with a last-minute gamble?'"

Among the Irish casualties, Hanratty definitely will miss the Southern California finale Saturday because of a left shoulder separation. Eddy and Goeddeke are questionmarks and listed as unlikely to face the Trojans at all are Bob Gladieux, Eddy's replacement, and end Brian Stenger.

A Bright Outlook At Stanford, Cal

By JACK STEVENSON

BERKELEY (AP) — Underclass football talent give both Stanford and California an optimistic outlook for 1967 following seasons neither will boast much about.

Stanford wound up its campaign at 5-5 with Saturday's 13-7 triumph in the mud at Cal's Memorial Stadium. Most Stanford followers had hoped for a better over-all record.

Cal wound up at 3-7 but won two Pacific-8 conference victories while Stanford had to be satisfied with but one.

California's big threat all afternoon proved to be sophomore fullback Rick Bennett who carried 29 times for 96 yards and for this 69th renewal of the Big Game, the Bears started 10 first year players.

Still Ray Willsey told the students, "The results we want are the same as you, a winning season. As a football coach, I can say that we have made steps."

The Indians had decided that should they win the toss of the coin, they would elect to kick of rather than receive and hope California would make a mistake on the rain-swept, muddy gridiron.

It happened just that way, as Stanford's Dave Nelson intercepted a pass at Stanford's 45 and returned to the 40. Nine plays later, workhorse Jack Rot plunged over for the touchdown.

All the scoring came in the first half with slipping and sliding the theme of the final two quarters.

MICHIGAN STATE: 'WE'RE TOPS'

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State halfback Clint Jones, who set a Big Ten record by running 268 yards against Iowa, thought he played a better game against Notre Dame, although he gained only 13 yards.

Jones carried the ball just 10 times. The rest of the time he was blocking, helping Jimmy Raye run 75 yards and throwing a key block in Regis Cavender's four-yard touchdown run.

"I think we're No. 1," he said yesterday. "I think if we played them again we could beat them. But that's water of the dam."

The 6-foot, 206-pound MSU co-captain met often and violently with Notre Dame captain Jim Lynch, a 6-1, 225-pounder, as the two teams played to a 10-10 tie.

Possibly the hardest smash Lynch received from Jones came on a spectacular play in full view of the crowd of 80,011. Lynch had intercepted an MSU pass and started to run.

Jones flew into him with a savage tackle and Lynch fumbled. Jones recovered at the Notre Dame 36, helping the Spartans sustain a drive that ended in a 47-yard field goal by Dick Kenney.

All in all, Jones said of is battles with Lynch, "I got him more than he got me."

Jones told MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty early in the game he wanted to block.

"Clint had a great day blocking," Daugherty said.

It was the type of game, said Daugherty, where "no back was going to have any running room."

Thus, he wasn't ready to accept any arguments that Notre Dame would have been much stronger if injured hafback Nick Eddy had played.

"As the pros say, he was 'toasted,'" said Jones.

But, said Daugherty, while Hanratty was in, "we had him pretty well stopped."

Howard Stoddard, chief of the Michigan National Bank in Lansing, praised Daugherty for the play in which, with 3½ minutes left in the game, the Spartans gambled on a fourth and one situation on their own 30-yard line.

Raye ran for the first down. Then MSU was stopped at its 36.

"Congratulations on your fourth down play," Stoddard said.

"It would have been better if it was a touchdown play," Daugherty replied with a grin.

"People will remember that play long after the score is forgotten," Stoddard said.

Daugherty said he never had any doubts about taking the gamble.

"We were going for broke," he said.

Again, he declined to do what many a fan in Lansing was doing—criticizing the Fighting Irish for not going all out at the end to win.

"That would be bad ethics," he said.

There were two ways to look at the situation—he said—to choose to protect the tie or to pass.

"Two 'out' (pass patterns in which the receiver steps out of bounds after the catch to stop the clock) would have put them in field goal range," he said.

It was Michigan State that was doing the clock stopping.

Daugherty said he had no doubt, either, about taking the risk of giving Notre Dame time with the ball.

"If we could have recovered the ball down there (the Notre Dame 34) we would have been in field goal range," he said.

UCLA Upset Scrambles Bowl Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA made the job of picking the West's Rose Bowl team pretty difficult.

It would have been simple for the Pacific-8 hierarchy meeting today to name the Trojans of Southern California had they defeated the Bruins of UCLA last Saturday.

USC already had won the conference title simply because it played more league games than did UCLA. Also the Bruins had gone to the Rose Bowl last year.

The latter two points were believed sufficient to gain the Rose Bowl nod, but UCLA made it difficult with a 14-7 victory over its intracity rival. The result left USC at 4-1 in the Pacific-8 and UCLA 3-1, along with Oregon State.

Overall, the Trojans are 7-2 with Notre Dame coming up on Saturday. UCLA has finished at 9-1 and Oregon State at 7-3.

With reserve quarterback Norman Dow taking over for the injured Gary Beban, the Bruins upended the Trojans, while in the other traditional battles Oregon State beat Oregon 20-15, Washington took Washington State 19-7 and Stanford defeated California 13-7.

Fresno State came from behind to edge San Jose State 15-13.

UCLA's Dow scored one touchdown on a five-yard run, then set up the second after the Trojans had tied the count at 7-7 in the third period.

Oregon State's Pete Pifer became the first Pacific-8 player to rush for more than 1,000 yards in two consecutive seasons as he punched out 130 against Oregon to run his season total to 1,088, seven less than he gained last year. Pifer also scored one of the Beaver touchdowns.

Washington's Don Martin booted four field goals to bring the Huskies their victory over a Washington State club which gave away the ball on fumbles three times. Martin's boots were from 30, 36, 25 and 37 yards from the goal posts.

Dons Gain In Soccer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The University of San Francisco will play St. Louis University in the quarterfinals of the NCAA Soccer Championships at St. Louis Saturday.

In regional playoffs the past weekend USF beat San Jose State 2-1 in San Francisco and St. Louis trounced Colorado College 5-1 in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The championship competition winds up in Berkeley with the semifinals starting Dec. 1 and the final Dec. 3.

San Francisco's victory Saturday came as Don Eduardo Rangel booted two goals in the second half to first tie and then defeat the invaders from San Jose.

Playing in a heavy downpour, San Jose got off to an early lead halfway through the first quarter when Henry Camancho scored.

Three weeks ago, the Dons also scored a 2-1 victory over San Jose in an overtime game.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

"Daddy! Why is your face so red?"

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Nov. 21, the 325th day of 1966 with 40 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

French philosopher Voltaire was born on this day in 1694.

On this day in history:

A thought for the day — American poet Walt Whitman said: "Once fully enslaved, no nation, no state or city of this earth, ever afterwards resumes its liberty."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Scientists Offered This Hand For Study: An Expert Make

Scientists tell us that bad bridge is neither contagious nor inherited.

Since they dont' say anything about brilliant bridge, they may be studying the case of young Jim Kauder, son of Arnold Kauder and the present Mary Jane Farell.

'66 REGIONALS

The youthful Jim Kauder met the hand shown today in the 1966 Eastern Regional Pair Championship, which he won. His problem on this hand was to make four spades.

Other players who held the same cards had no trouble losing two hearts and two clubs.

Kauder ruffed the third round of hearts with the seven of spades and led out three high trumps.

DIAMOND PLAY

First, declarer cashed the king of diamonds. Then he led out the ace and king of clubs. This would be perfectly safe if the five missing clubs broke 3-2.

If this turned out to be the case, Kauder intended to draw the last trump and give up one club.

BAD BREAK

As it happened, the clubs broke badly. East thought hard about the second round of clubs, and then he discarded a diamond.

Since East had failed to follow suit to hearts and clubs, it was clear that his remaining cards were one trump and four diamonds.

SPADE LEAD

Jim Kauder therefore led the deuce of spades, which he had saved just in case East tried to escape by saving the three of spades. East had to win the trick and had to return a diamond.

What will the scientists say about this hand?

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:
♡ 9 7 3
♦ A J 6 4
♣ 7 5 4 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have only five points, and should count nothing for distribution since you have no support for partner's suit. If this hand is good enough to make a game, your partner should have opened with a forcing bid.

San Rafael Sherman Clay Store Now Gives Box Office Service

Ever since Sherman Clay first moved into the downtown area of San Rafael several years ago there has been talk of opening a box office in the store.

This finally came to pass today, with experienced ticket people in charge. Mrs. Dixie Roberts, conducting the operation, also has the Sherman Clay box office in Hayward and thus is already familiar with the demands and routines. She has an advantage, too, of being able to coordinate ticket purchases between the two stations. Assisting her is Miss Roberta (Miky) Lott from the Hayward box office, who will be handling the San Rafael desk most of the time.

The office will provide tickets for all professional musicals in the Bay Area—opera, operettas, symphony and ballets—along with theater performances, one-night stands, many local affairs and some sport events. All Coliseum performances in Oakland will be covered, as well as all presentations at the Curran and Geary Theaters in San Francisco.

A special telephone number has been assigned for Sherman Clay Box Office and can be obtained from the information operator. The regular Sherman Clay number also may be used, if necessary.

MISS LOTT

MAURER

NEWLY OPENED at 212 Bon Air Shopping Center is Luxton Optical, a dispensing office offering complete optical service, including contact lenses and custom eyewear designed to prescription.

Owner Harold (Hal) Luxton is a resident of Petaluma who has been in business 25 years. For three years he was associated with the Jenkel-Davidson Optical Co. and has managed that firm's stores in San Rafael and Greenbrae. He is a native of Pennsylvania.

Featured by Luxton Optical, which is next to Petrini's, are two private sitting rooms and an extensive array of frames. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

RETAIL CREDIT CO., San Rafael, will make another move Dec. 1—I believe this its third relocation on Lincoln Avenue. This time it will be from 1800 Lincoln to the 1368 Lincoln Avenue Building of James Bowler and Ralph Waltz, completed last May. Presumably the company is now acquiring both sufficient space and the type of quarters desired.

The two-story building is over 50 per cent occupied, but there are still about 4,000 square feet available for lease. Present occupants are B and W Development Co. (Bowler and Waltz); Donald Geddes, Realtor; Nuclear Data, an electronic firm; First of California Tax Service, Inc.; Traid Corp., a camera sales agency; accountants Redding and Langbehn, and Dr. W. L. Whitcomb, dentist.

BANK OF AMERICA'S new Novato branch office in the former Our Lady of Loretto Church at Second Street and Grant Avenue will hold an open house tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. Gifts and refreshments will be featured. A highlight of the affair will be the presentation of a gold key to manager Calvin L. Maurer, who has headed the Hamilton Air Force Base branch for the past 15 months. Appropriate dignitaries will be present.

RESERVE LIFE INSURANCE CO. has relocated from 1703 Fifth Avenue around the corner to 20 H Street, San Rafael. The new quarters are much larger. The lease was negotiated by Tom Ireland of Dohemann and Co.

This office of Reserve Life, managed by C. M. (Chip) Page, covers a large territory from below San Jose to the Oregon border. There are plans for more offices to be opened, including another one somewhere in Marin.

Stocks Close Low; Reaction To Autos

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today as Wall Street reacted to production cutbacks by General Motors and other dreary news. Trading was fairly active.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.5 million shares compared with 6.91 million Friday.

Key stocks lost from fractions to about 2 points while high-flying glamor issues were down several points in some cases.

GM, opening late under accumulated sell orders, sold on a bolck of 30,400 shares and sank a point or more as the most actively traded issue. News of its production cutbacks brought it under pressure.

Motorola was down more than 3. The company cut employment in its semi-conductor division, according to a published report.

IBM dropped half a dozen points. Off about 3 were Xerox and Litton Industries. Delta Airlines and Fairchild Camera lost about 4 each.

Off 2 points or so were Texas Instruments, Burroughs, Magnavox, SCM, Texas Gulf Sulphur, TWA, Zenith and Raytheon.

Baltimore & Ohio advanced more than a point following a published report quoting the president as saying the road's 1966 earnings should be up sharply.

This had no apparent effect on the prices of other rail stocks. Illinois Central was down about 2 while Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central lost a point or more.

Profits Exceed Yearly Prediction

LOS ANGELES — International Industries, Inc., has exceeded all of the company's projections for fiscal 1966 reaching new, high levels in earnings, sales and number of franchised locations opened in a year.

Al Lapin Jr., the company's president, said earnings for the year ended on Sept. 4 were $1.29 per share after payment of preferred dividends, a 33 per cent gain over earnings of 97 cents per share in fiscal 1965.

Net income before payment of preferred dividends was $1,061,403, compared to $805,157 in the same period last year.

Earnings Rise At Condec Corp.

NEW YORK — Condec Corp. achieved increased first quarter sales and earnings according to Norman I. Schafler, president.

The company had net earnings of $375,000, equal to 24 cents per common share, on sales of $14,911,000 for the first period ended Oct. 31. This compares with earnings of $281,000, equal to 20 cents per common share, on sales of $9,349,000 for the first quarter last year.

NEW NOVATO AUTO SHOWROOMS

Ted Schuman Chevrolet in Novato now occupies this dominant position on the Redwood Highway, opposite Lamont Avenue. The facility takes up one-half of a 10-acre site owned by Schuman near the Novato Fair Shopping Center and accessible from it. The agency moved to the larger quarters from Grant Avenue last month. SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Cyclical Stocks Cannot Assure Education Funds

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I would like to start an investment program in growth stocks for the education of my three small children. I have considered Radio Corp. of America and National Steel. What is your opinion?" H. H.

A. I commend your prudence in planning so far ahead for your children's education.

True growth stocks are those which over a period of years have established a record of consistent gains in earnings, dividends and price at a faster rate than the economy as a whole. Cyclical issues are shares which are closely tied to the major up and down moves in business.

National Steel is a cyclical stock as are all others in its group. It is a sound stock for income but it is unlikely to enhance your capital in the years ahead. RCA shows an excellent picture of growth and would qualify for your objective. For a second choice, I suggest Bristol-Myers.

Q. "I'm a senior in college and recently made my first purchase—100 shares of General Public Service at 5⅞. A few days later you advised an investor against buying low-priced stocks. Naturally I am quite concerned." D. H.

A. I'm afraid that you misunderstood my remarks about low-priced stocks. In the column to which you refer, I advised specifically against buying low-priced speculative stocks. Your General Public Service is a closed-end investment company and its price is closely related to its net asset value. The shares are not speculative.

AMC Reports Drop In Sales; No Dividends

DETROIT (AP) — Directors of American Motors Corp. voted today to omit for the fifth successive time its quarterly dividend.

The nation's fourth alrgest auto company paid 87½ cents in its 1965 fiscal year but made no payments in the 1966 fiscal year which ended Sept. 30.

AMC's sales were off sharply in the 1966 model run and they did not show much improvement in the early weeks of the 1967 model year.

The firm's directors, meeting in Detroit, were due to release later today the firm's annual report which was expected to show a drop over its 1965 record.

AMC officials reported that demand for its higher-priced Ambassador lines had shown some strength in the early 1967 model market but that public interest in its American, or lower-priced line, had lagged behind a year ago.

Loose Nut Can Wreck The Best-Built Auto

"Mechanical defects" in the modern automobile have been grossly overplayed as the cause of accidents, ever since author Ralph Nader's testimony in Congress.

But too much emphasis on further armor-coating and shatterproofing of cars tends to lull the driver into a false sense of security. A motorist, securely strapped to the seat of his overstuffed limousine equipped with collapsible steering wheel and bumpers that have a 14-inch "give" will tend to take chances that a man on an open scooter wouldn't dream of taking.

The chance of survival will not be appreciably increased in a head-on crash at 80 miles per hour just because the two missiles are built like Sherman tanks.

The blame for most of the accidents should be placed where it belongs—the driver. The design of the automobile is no more important than the skill and care exercised by the driver and the design of the highway.

It is true that a good driver can get into trouble in an inherently unsafe automobile with defects of which he is unaware. But more frequently the lapse lies with the driver.

In 1964 and 1965, the California Division of Highways found that 60 per cent of the people killed on freeways were victims of running off the road, striking a fixed object, or they were pedestrians.

Research proved that persons in these classifications seldom had anyone to blame but themselves. They were traveling at unsafe speeds, driving or walking on a freeway after drinking, falling asleep at the wheel, becoming preoccupied with something other than driving, or standing near their cars in an unsafe manner.

In some instances, highway design has been a cause of grief. An outstanding example is the "booby trap" at the San Quentin wye overpass, which takes southbound cars over Highway 101 toward Richmond Bridge.

But even more important than the design of highways or the design of cars are the designs that take shape in the unpredictable minds of drivers.

The increasing clamor for more built-in safety features in automobiles must not obscure the fact that we need safer drivers and safer freeways.

Those Toads In Our Gardens

Toads may not be the most pleasing creatures to behold, but they are a boon to any garden because of their voracious appetites for insects. They are found all over Marin County, but are particularly common along water courses, such as the Bret Harte drainage canal, which provide breeding places for them.

Toads have a high mortality rate, being filet mignon to snakes, owls, jays and some other animals. If, however, they are able to avoid their enemies, they are remarkably long lived. One European toad lived to the ripe old age of 36 before it was killed in an accident.

PUT HOPE WHERE THERE IS NO HOPE

"Worried to death" can be a literal truth, according to recent findings of two Rochester doctors.

They spent 20 years investigating why people get sick. They concluded that physical illness and death are often preceded by up to five years of deep feelings of helplessness and hopelessness.

In a survey of 190 patients who had died of various illnesses, the doctors said that 80 per cent had become physically ill after developing severe mental problems which led to a "giving-up complex."

This despairing attitude can take two forms: helplessness, in which the patient feels he has lost control over the events of his life; and hopelessness, in which he feels he is to blame for the things he is worried about.

The ray of hope which you bring into the lives of persons who are worried, depressed or frustrated can be a decisive factor in giving them a new lease on life. You will be doing the work of the Savior Himself by putting hope where there is no hope.

"Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." (Galatians 6:2)

Where there is despair, let me bring hope, O Lord.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

New Civil Service Game Called 'Bumping' Sweeping Sacramento

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A new game called "bumping" is quite the rage in Sacramento these days.

It originated from the Brown administration practice of putting civil service employees in exempt state positions, at much higher salaries.

Under civil service law, they have the perogative of returning from their lucrative exempt positions handed out by the Democrats, to their lesser jobs under the new Republican administration.

AND AT THE SAME time they can, if they so choose, assist in carrying on the policies of the old administration, which was voted out by a majority of nearly a million ballots.

The civil service laws provide that an employee who stays with his own agency, but accepts a higher-paid exempt job, has permanent rights to return to his old job.

If he goes to another agency, these rights extend for only four years. Thus, employees selected for exempt positions give up nothing, and in most instances, gain a heavy financial benefit.

THIS PRACTICE not only hampers the activities of a new administration taking over government at the mandate of the people, but also detracts from the efficiency of the civil service employees who in turn are "bumped" when the head man returns to his old job.

The practice of retaining civil service rights while at the same time serving as political appointees would appear to negate one of the major objectives of civil service.

THIS OBJECTIVE, when the people voted civil service more than 30 years ago, was to keep state employees out of politics, and give them opportunity to concentrate on their jobs of service to the state, rather than scramble every time an administration changes for position and money.

Blood Boiling Over U.C. Story

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I believe in freedom of expression, etc., etc., and am not a closed mind bigot; however, when a handful of rabble rousing tramps, beatnicks, pseudo-intellectuals and communist-inspired and backed crumbs can desecrate the memory of all the people who fought to preserve the freedom of this country, on State owned property, by rude gestures and doped-up music (rock and roll noise), then I say we, the veterans, and people should take future steps to prevent a reoccurence of such a deplorable scene.

Bums on Mission Street are herded into police vans for just loitering on the street and are constantly harassed to remove them from the scene for really doing nothing. Yet this scum (and they are not all students) can enter private property to disgrace the memory of the people who fought for their liberty. Can't the police find something on the books to remove these crumbs—such as a fire hose?

Reader Wonders About Reporter

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Perry's reference to Annie Jameson, supervisor in this unit of Social Services as a "middle-aged spinster" is irrevelant and seems to be a deliberate attempt to question her ability in this capacity because she is not married.

Dominican Convent has reared children from nursery school through college by spinsters and bachelors: Yeah, priests and nuns. It is quite an honor if your child is accepted by these dedicated people. They are most successful and are all ages.

No less dedicated are people like Annie Jameson whose creed is "The child always comes first." However, unlike the Dominican Convent her problems are multiplied tenfold as she deals with an entirely different class of people, the Social Services is perpetually hounded to CUT DOWN EXPENSES, adoptive parents are not only too choosy but impatient as well, etc., etc.

The I-J article goes on to say there are seven hard to place (unwanted) children. What child isn't a colossal pain in the neck at times? But what of all the good times? What natural expectant mother can order a girl and get a boy? Or be delivered of a still-born or a baby beyond the help of medical science due to mental or physical disorders?

Thank God for our Annie Jamesons. It doesn't take a husband or the experience of giving birth to a baby to develop a heart and devote one's life to helping unwanted children.

I am too fully aware of our married and single mistresses, who like the cowbird lay their eggs in another bird's nest to be hatched and raised to maturity. Our human "cowbirds" at least do the hatching. Their repeatedly little girly mistakes keep the Annie Jamesons gathering them into the fold and finding adoptive parents. It's getting so the Social Services have a problem finding just foster parents.

Highway 17 Prose Liked

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Since writing the letter regarding Highway 17, which you published, I want to thank you for the coverage and keeping the people well informed; it has given them the realization that unless they take immediate action (which they are doing) that the rug could be pulled from under them and their homes and places of business demolished!

I especially want to make mention of the I-J reporter's notebook by Frank Farrara—it is a masterpiece with the satire and true facts, because it comes home to us.

Maybe the Highway Engineer and the Highway Commission—also our Marin Planning Board—who have cooked up the bold adventure will not be pleased, but I am sure you will get the vote of the people, especially those involved.

If it is a must to have a route to the Point Reyes Seashore, they should have a scenic roadway that would not cause utter destruction to the County.

Sleepy Hollow And Route 17

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It must be obvious to anyone who has followed the developments regarding selection of a freeway route to Nicasio that there will be no freeway at all unless it goes through Sleepy Hollow, the way things stand now. It is a sad commentary on our system of government in Marin County that it is possible to defy both justice and logic in the selection of a route. Sleepy Hollow has no voice simply because it is unincorporated, so justice can not win out. Logic is defied, since the user benefit ratio is much, much greater for the Upper Ross Valley leg through San Anselmo and Fairfax as compared to the leg through Sleepy Hollow.

I am not wishing an unwanted freeway on San Anselmo or Fairfax. Unless the current proposals can be modified to be palatable to these communities there should be no freeway at all in central Marin.

I am no highway engineer, but will attempt to suggest a few modifications which might make the freeway proposal more attractive to San Anselmo and Fairfax:

1. Limit the number of lanes to an ultimate six in San Anselmo and an ultimate four in Fairfax.

2. Don't wait ten years to do it. The longer the delay, the more these communities and the County will have to spend for interim solutions to the traffic problem.

3. Spread the northwest-bound lanes as far apart as practicable from the southeast-bound lanes to avoid usurping a wide swath in the relatively narrow valley.

4. Use depressed or subsurface construction to a maximum extent, including full consideration of tunnels.

5. Do whatever else will restore the real estate to the communities in as near original condition as possible. Construction of stores, malls, parks and parking lots over the freeway lanes should be allowed for.

Socialized Medicine And Senator Dirksen

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At this time, approximately one-sixth of the citizens of this country enjoy government paid medical plans. Why not the other five-sixths?

ONE OF THE toughest umpires in the major leagues had officiated through two tedious, extra-inning games in a sweltering midsummer Sunday doubleheader, and was in even a fouler humor than usual when he barged into his home after 8 p.m.. The sight of his little 5-year-old son softened the grizzled arbiter's heart, however, and he proposed, "Come over and sit on my lap, my boy, and I'll tell you all about the latest adventures of Batman."

Manila Conference Big News— But What About It All Now?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Manila peace conference looks like ancient history now. As a result of it, peace is no nearer and, so far as can be seen, it won't be. It just looks like one of those things.

And now, less than a month after the conference, hardly a word is heard about it. The Communists of North Viet Nam and China have ridiculed all American peace proposals as double-talk, including the one at Manila.

U.S. TALK OF peace down through the months, and now the years, has been repeatedly vague, which is understandable. By being less than absolutely precise, the United States leaves itself room for maneuver if peace talks start.

This was repeated in the October communique put out at Manila by President Johnson and the six men who met with him there, the leaders of Asian and Pacific nations who are involved on the American side in Viet Nam.

Since the United States has not won the war, it is not in a position to impose peace terms, unmistakably clear. It can only suggest some. If it could impose terms, there would be no need for vagueness.

SO FAR the United States has been simply trying to get North Viet Nam started in discussing peace. The settlement would have to come out of the talks.

At Manila the seven agreed the allied forces in South Viet Nam would be withdrawn "as the other side withdraws its forces to the north, ceases infiltration, and the level of violence subsides.

"Those forces will be withdrawn as soon as possible and not later than six months after the above conditions have been fulfilled."

THE COMMUNIQUE didn't say whether the North Vietnamese — and — the Viet Cong would have to withdraw to the north. It said the other side would have to cease "infiltration" without explaining whether this meant North Viet Nam —and — the Viet Cong.

And it said allied forces would be withdrawn only when violence subsided, without saying whether violence by North Viet Nam or the Viet Cong or both.

But the implication seemed plain enough: that the allies would not pull out until the North Vietnamese and the Viet Ctong stopped molesting South Viet Nam.

And the communique was vague on who would decide when violence subsided. Obviously only the allies would decide and that gave them a lot of time and a big loophole on just when they thought violence had subsided enough to get their forces out.

The allies would hardly leave it up to the North Vietnamese or the Viet Cong to tell them when violence had subsided.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Rocket Break-Up Red Nuclear Gain

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — There is nothing accidental about the recent breakup of Russian satellites over the U. S.

Their shattering into a number of pieces was a carefully planned and controlled Soviet military-space experiment.

U. S. interception devices located near Russia's borders picked up radio signals from ground transmitters in the Soviet Union to the orbiting satellites.

While intelligence authorities are still piecing together information on the sinister military implications of these Soviet tests, the North American Air Defense Command already has significant data indicating that Russia has scored a new nuclear-space breakthrough.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF MIRV — multi-warhead independent revolving vehicle—is strongly indicated in the Soviets' experiments, according to this analysis.

In non-technical terms, the Russians apparently have succeeded in separating in flight at a pre-determined time and location a "cluster of satellites," each capable of carrying a nuclear warhead.

Such a menacing accomplishment would enable the Soviet to launch a satellite set to reach a certain point over the U. S. and then direct nuclear bombs at targets across the country from New York to California.

INDICATIVE OF the range and danger of this possibility is the fact that fragments of the two splintered satellites were found in New York City, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Miami, Chicago, Omaha, San Francisco and Houston.

These coded messages are believed to be transmitted by "illegals" — Soviet agents — operating in the U. S., Canada and Mexico.

THESE "ILLEGALS," who usually use couriers or short-wave radio to transmit information, are believed to be testing the use of satellites as a speedier and safer method of contacting the "center," as their headquarters on the outskirts of Moscow is termed.

As a result of information given by Col. Oleg Penkovsky, the Russian intelligence officer who worked for the U. S. until apprehended and executed, Pentagon and other authorities have been on the alert for the possible use of satellites for this purpose since 1962.

In addition to these satellite experiments, the Soviet has also in the past six months succeeded in altering the trajectory of an inter-continental ballistic missile (ICBM) after it was launched over the Pacific.

MEMBERS OF THE Senate and House Armed Services Committees, briefed on this new Russian missile development, were told it could nullify proposed U. S. anti-missile missile defenses. The operation of these weapons is now based on calculation of the normal curve of their trajectory.

"If this report is correct and I have no reason to question it," said Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, "then Russia has achieved a major missile breakthrough. We aren't even experimenting in this field."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

N. Charles Brusatori was sworn in as a Marin Superior Court judge before a crowd of well-wishers who overflowed into adjoining rooms and hallways in the courthouse.

Marin County made a mild bid to be included in the first phase of the proposed Bay Area rapid transit system.

ART BUCHWALD

The Voters Give Their Reasons Why Election Went As It Did

WASHINGTON—This is the time when we must interpret the results of last week's elections. What were the issues that made lifelong Democrats vote Republican and lifelong Republicans vote Democratic? Was it the Viet Nam war? Was it inflation? Was it the white backlash? Nixon? The draft? In order to find out I went forth and interviewed several voters on why they voted the way they did.

"Sir, your neighbors tell me you were a lifelong Democrat and for the first time in this election you voted Republican. Could you tell me what national issue made you change your mind?"

"THEY WOULDN'T fix my sewer."

"I beg your pardon?"

"You deef or something? I said the Democrats wouldn't fix my sewer. I told them a month ago, 'You better send someone out here to fix my sewer or I'm going to vote Republican! They paid no mind, so I voted Republican. If the Republicans don't come out and fix my sewer soon, I may become an independent.'"

"Then Viet Nam did not play a part in your switching your vote?"

"Of course it did. I figured they're over there spending all that money giving those people new sewers, the least they could do was repair mine."

"WHAT ABOUT the white backlash?" I asked him.

"Heck, I didn't care who fixed the sewer, just as long as they sent out a crew. You live around a broken sewer for a little while and you're ready to throw the incumbents out, no matter who they are."

"Did former Vice-President Nixon influence you in any way?"

"Not much. He might have, if he brought up the sewer issue: but he stayed away from it. I guess he was trying to unite the Republican Party."

"WAS YOUR FEAR of inflation a factor in your switching your vote?"

"Wal, in a way it was. When I called up to ask them why they wouldn't fix my sewer, they said it cost them twice as much to repair it now as it did 10 years ago. So that got me to thinking. If you can't get your sewer repaired for a decent price there must be inflation in this country."

"Thank you very much, sir. I'm glad you were influenced by the national issues in this election."

I went across the street to another house and spoke to a man who was raking his leaves.

"MISTER, IS IT true that you voted Republican this time after being a registered Democrat?"

"Yes, I did, and I don't mind telling you why. I'm getting sick and tired of big government interfering in your private life."

"How's that?"

"Well, you tkke that broken sewer out there. You know why it hasn't been fixed? Because everyone is waiting for the government to do it. Now the Republican philosophy, as I understand it, is that everyone should fix his own sewer. That's what made this country great. Our forefathers did not wait around for someone to repair sewers for them. They just dug a hole and wrapped some burlap around the broken pipe."

"What about the draft?"

TO ROUND UP my survey, I decided to interview a defeated incumbent who lived four blocks away.

"Sir, why do you think you lost the election?"

"I WAS formerly the commissioner of sewers."

After All What Does Deadline Mean If Taxpayers Are Paying?

Did you know that Nov. 6-12 was American Education Week, and that the theme was "Education Adds Up"?

I did not find out until four days after the week was over, too late to celebrate it. The Tardy information came from the county's slickest of all publications, the Marin County Schools Reporter, Volume XXV No. 3, November 1966.

The monthly publication, put out by the county schools office and financed by all of us, was evidently slightly behind deadline.

School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, in his sprightly column, devoted the space to a smiling picture of himself and an election prediction, The Reporter, however, did not start reaching its avid readers until eight days after the polls closed.

"November 8, then," Hollis predicted, "may well rank as one of the most important dates in the evaluation of the efectiveness of our educational program, for on that date instruction in democracy becomes practice in democracy."

NOW THERE is a good newspaper man. Notice he said "may." The election is over, but he is still hedging.

Still, I was sharply disappointed to discover I had missed American Education Week. In fact, if I had relied on the Marin County Schools Reporter, I also would have missed Veterans Day which occurred five days before Volume XXV No. 3 arrived to announce it. Fortunately, most of us had this information from some other source.

ALSO ANNOUNCED in the publication was a Nov. 3 workshop on national defense education, a Nov. 7-11 conference in San Francisco and a Nov. 8 conference at Granada School. The Reporter arrived Nov. 16.

The announcements of these things take up nearly half the column headed "Calendar of Events" and the San Francisco and Granada School conferences are each described in separate, three paragraph stories elsewhere in the number.

There are obviously things that no teacher would want to miss, but anyone reading about them for the first time in the Reporter would find that he had missed them.

ANYONE WHO starts putting out a publication is opening the door to criticism, but I have got to admit, in fairness to Dr. Hollis and Company, that my criticism is based on pique.

As a reporter, I have always resented deadlines. I am just jealous of the happy situation where the deadline is no concern.

ALSO, MY pique is based on the frustration of wanting some-day to have a paper of my own. It is a common desire among reporters, but the big investment, the need to sell ads to cover costs and the worry, usually block the venture.

But Dr. Hollis does not have to worry about the investment. The taxpayers pay all costs. Neither does he have to sell ads. And from the picture, you can tell he is not worried.
